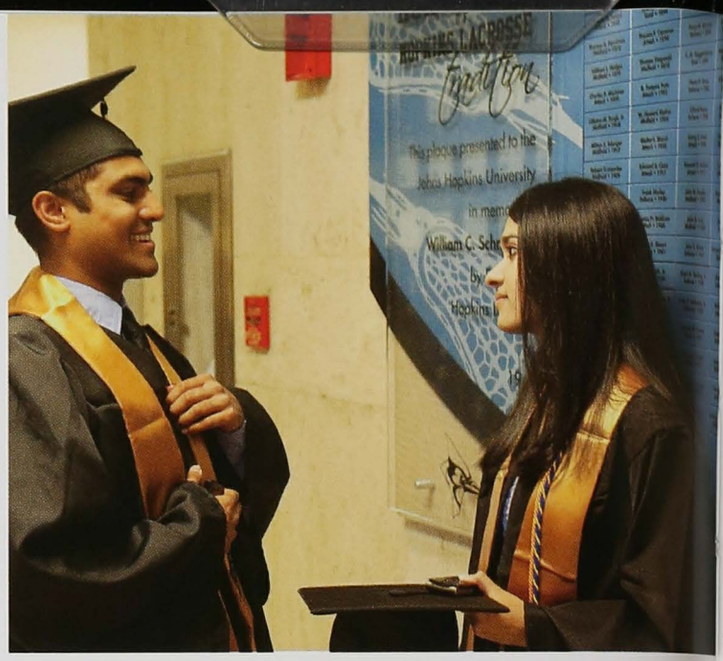
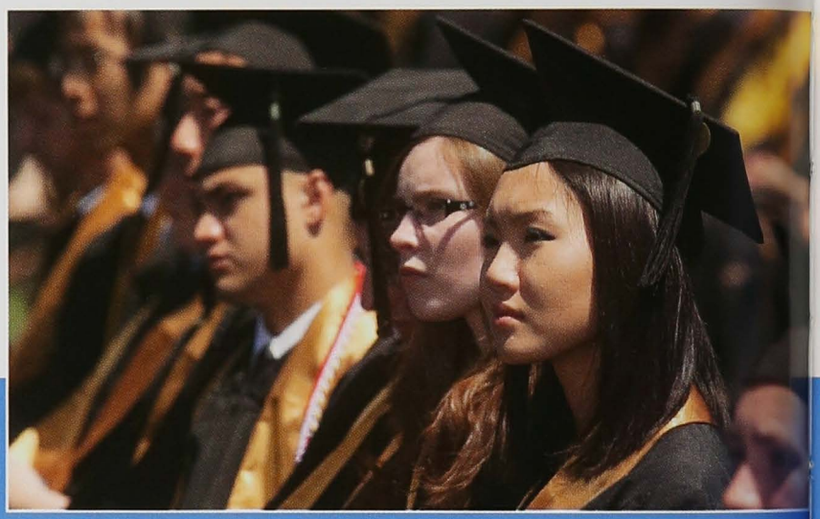
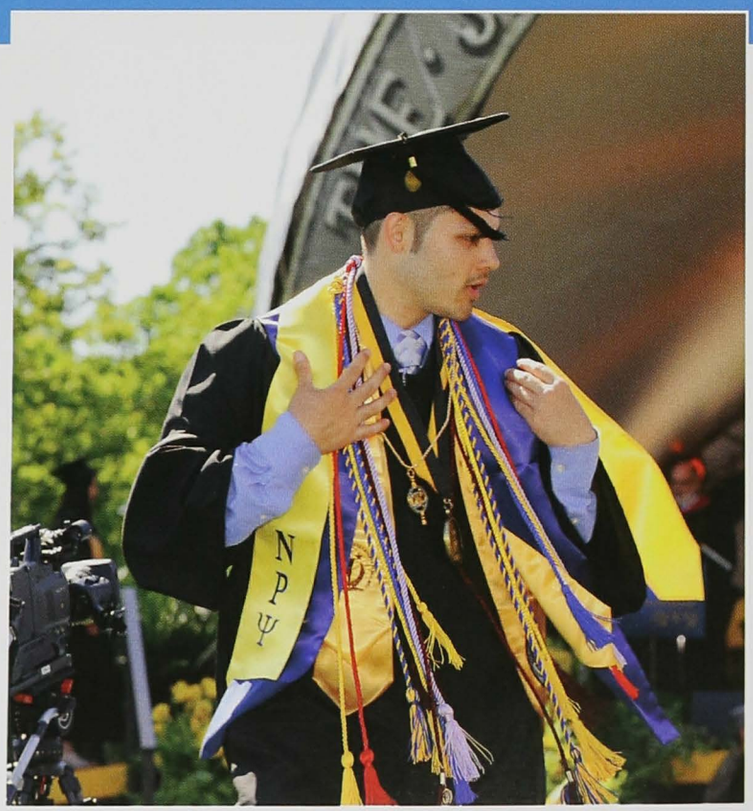
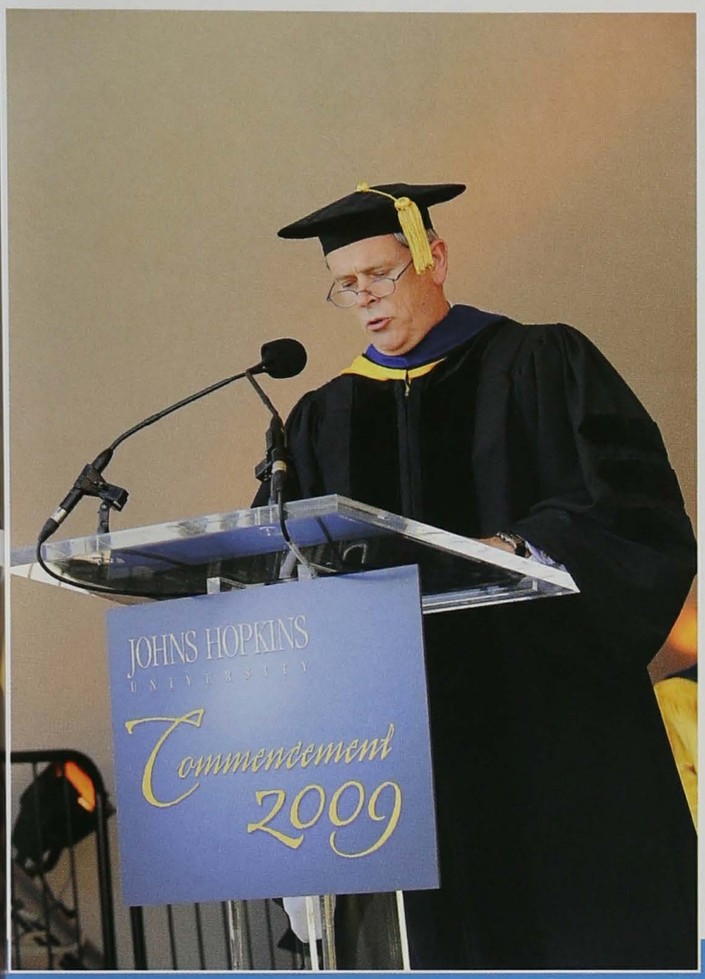
seniors



Recent graduates of the Johns Hopkins University Class of 2009 have time to reflect on the last four years they have spent here and the futures they have ahead of them.

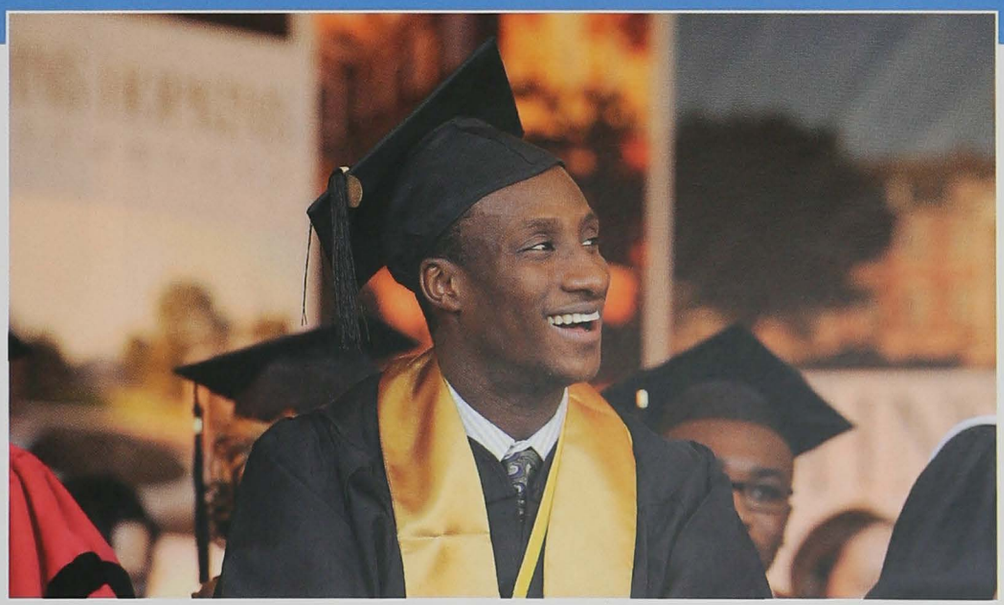






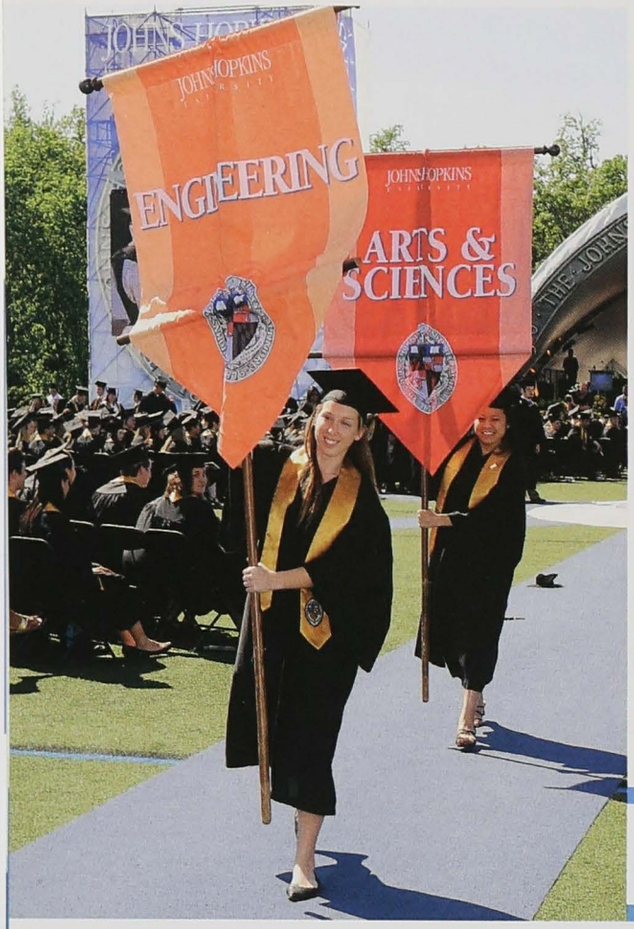
Hopkins students, staff, family members and friends gather together on a warm May day to celebrate the achievements of the graduating class of 2009.

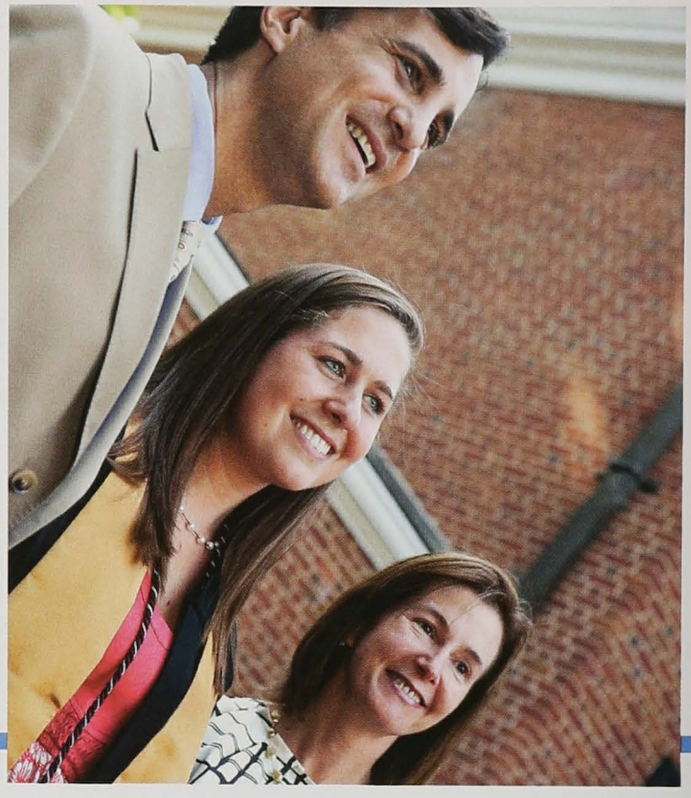
All of the students are thrilled to finally be walking in their commencement ceremony and receiving their diplomas they have worked hard over the past four years to earn.

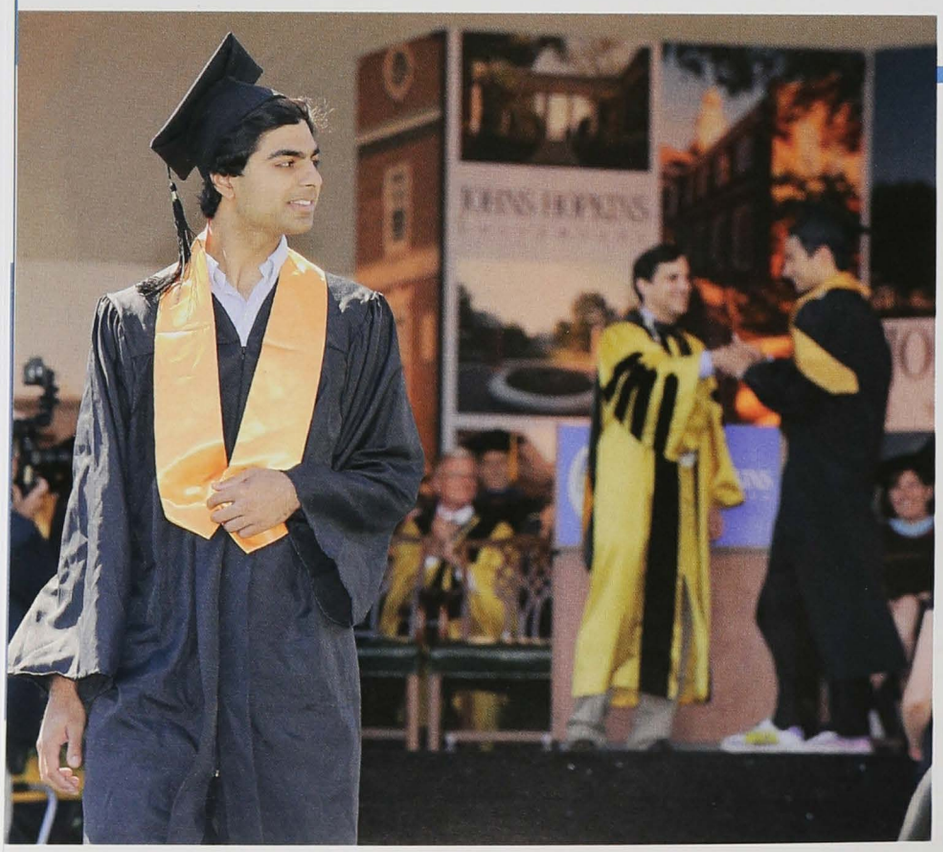


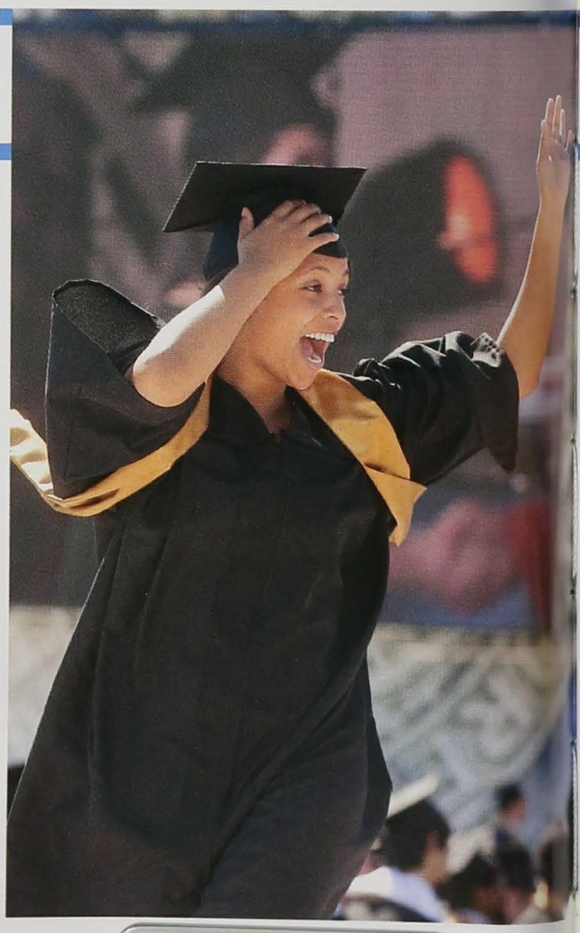
Commencement 2009

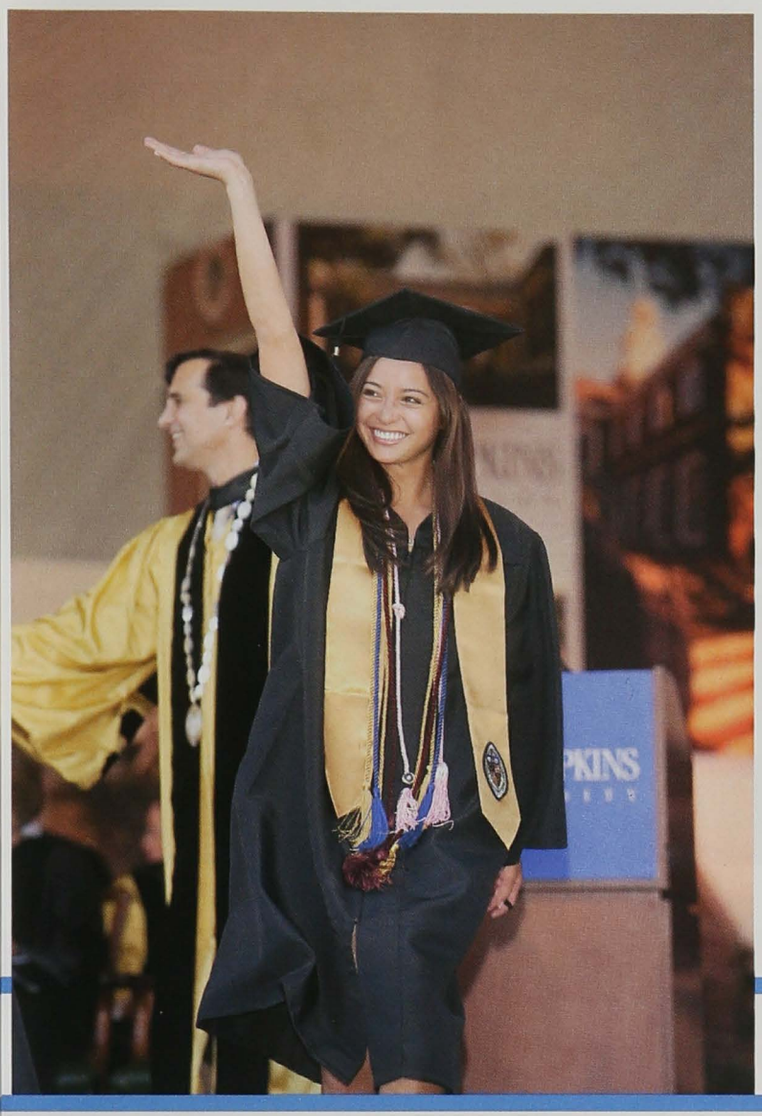
Commencement '09

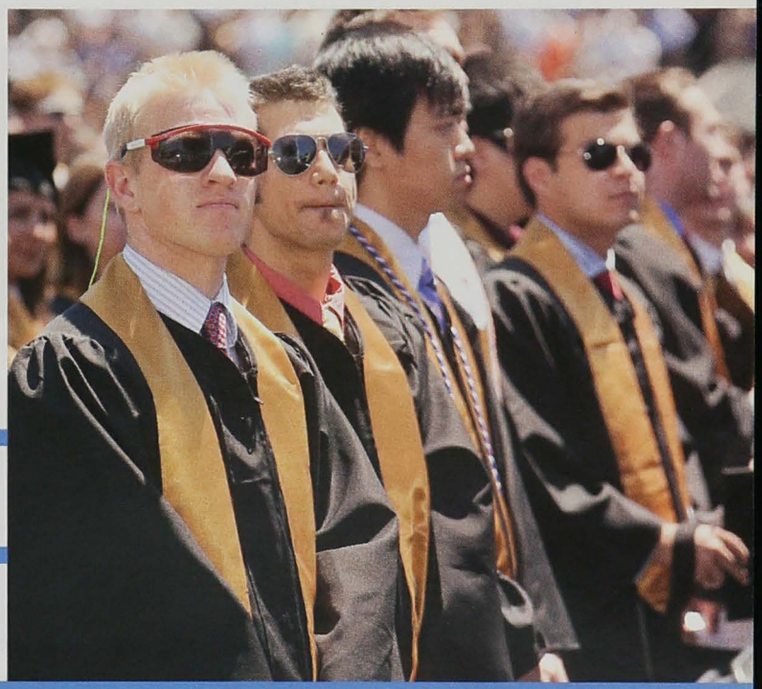


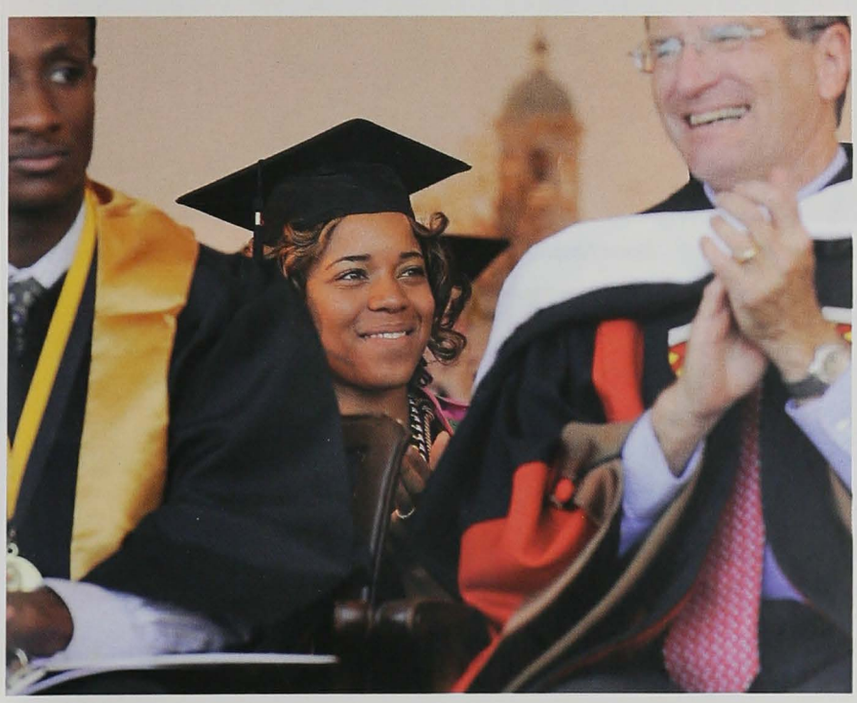












Students celebrate the culmination of four years of late night paper writing, group studying, having dinner with good friends and attending classes with their commencement ceremony.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE CLASS OF 2009!!!!!

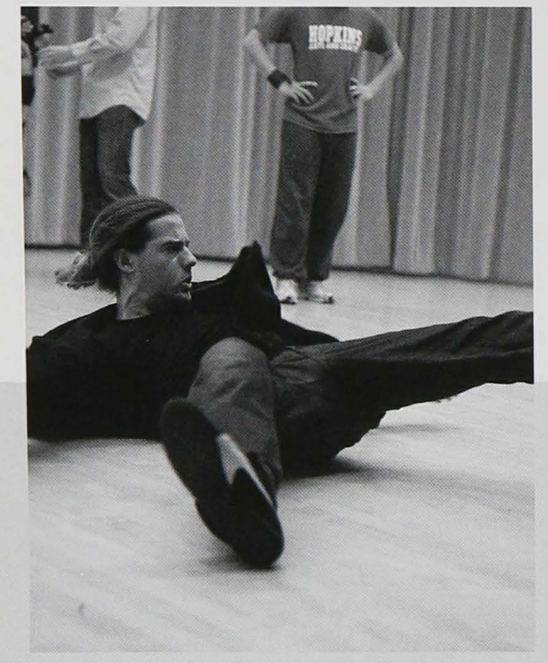
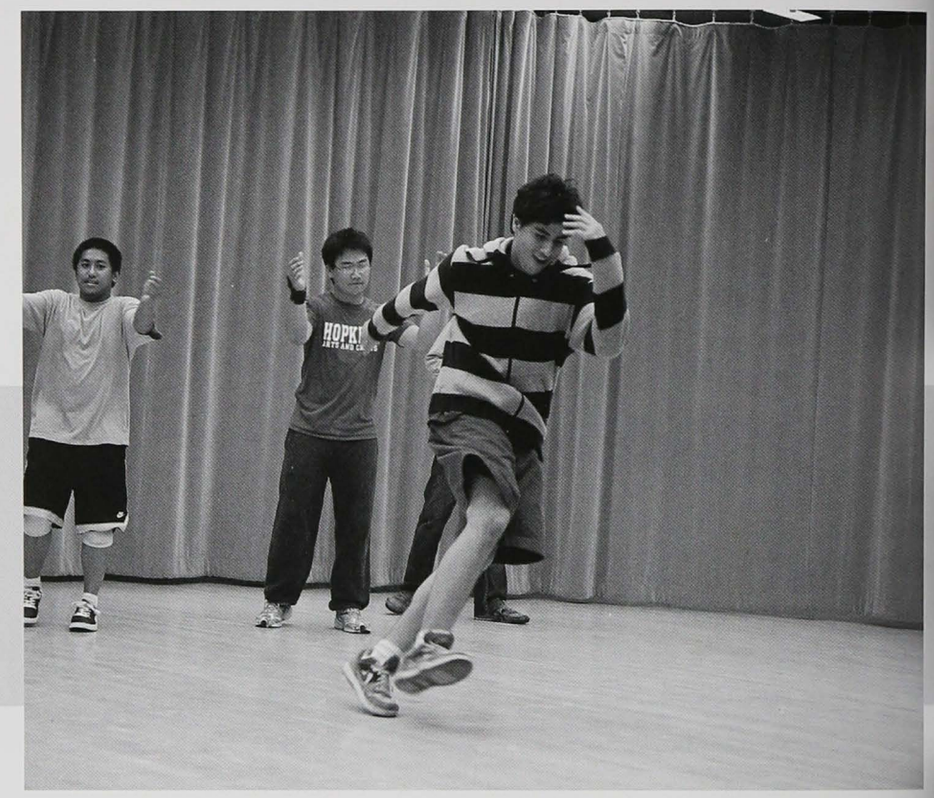
Clubs/Organizations

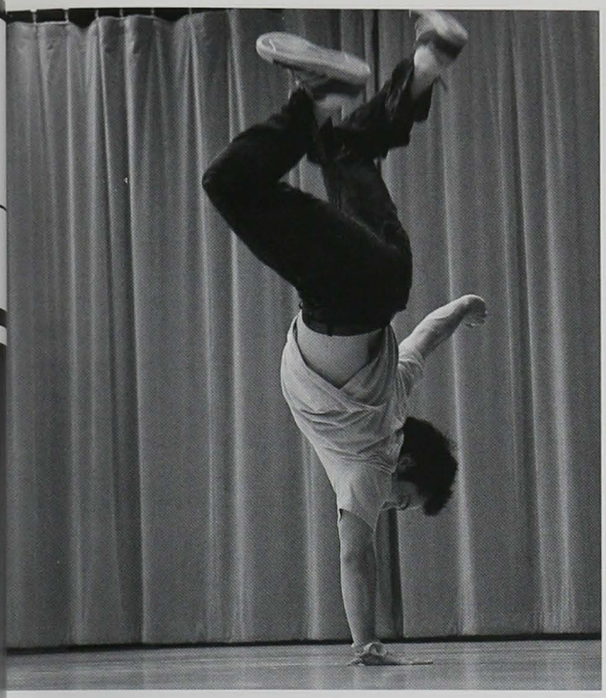
Dance Groups

Breaking it down...





Dancing hard and putting on a spectacular show!



Check out those awesome moves and incredible flexibility! The dancers are working hard and having fun.

Dancers at Hopkins know how to balance school with the fun of dancing. You can definitely see all their hard work paying off through their stellar performances.

More Dance Groups

Hopkins dancers performing bharatanatyam, a form of classical Indian dance with great poise and grace.

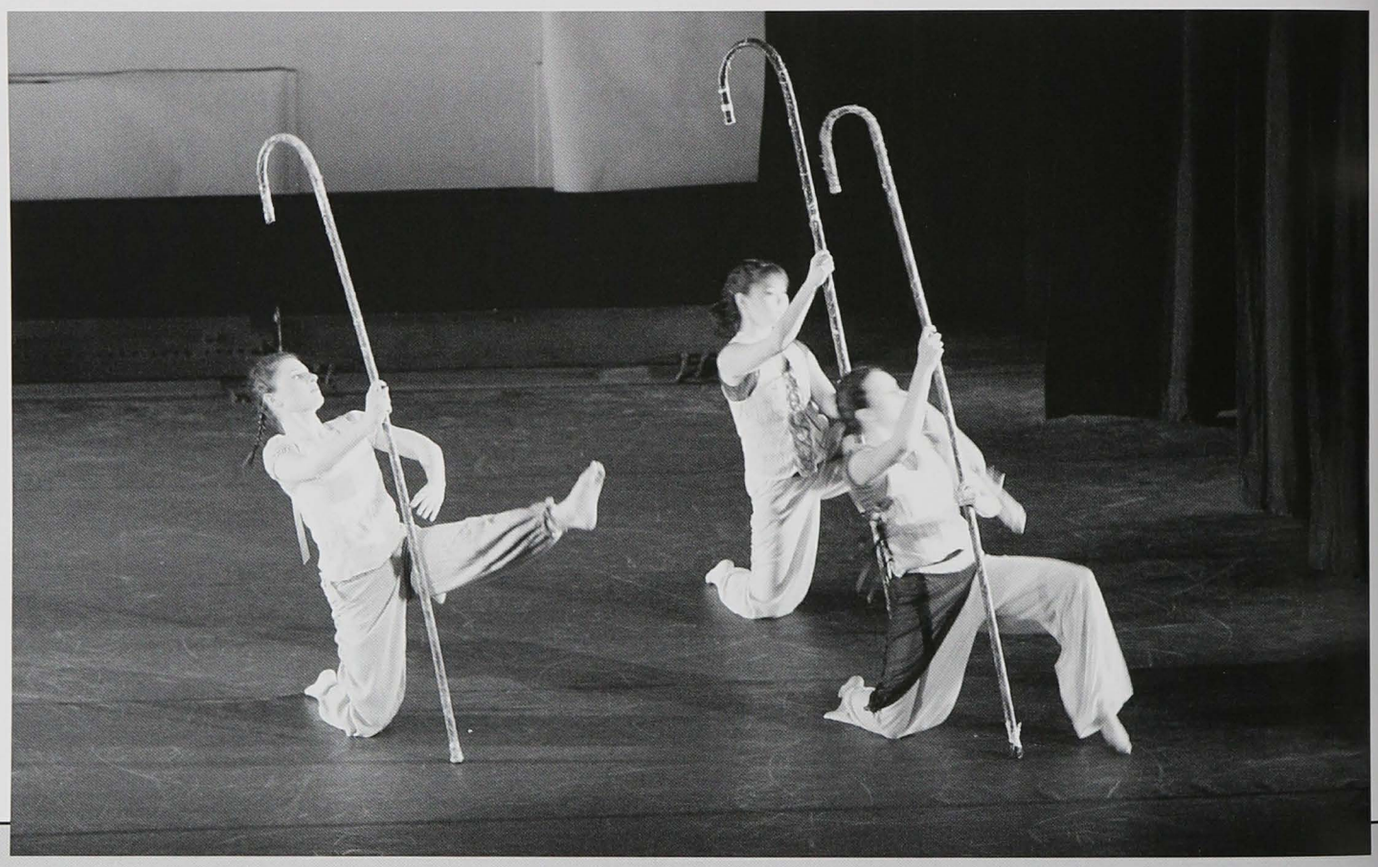
Getting their breakdance on...

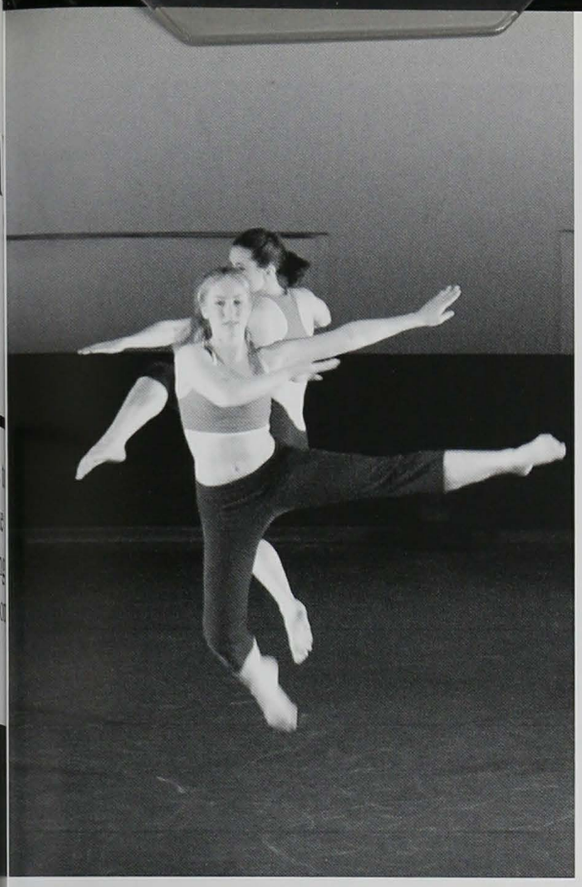
Hopkins students are showing off their breakdancing moves to their peers. Check out those gravity-defying feats!

Dance

Modern Dance Company

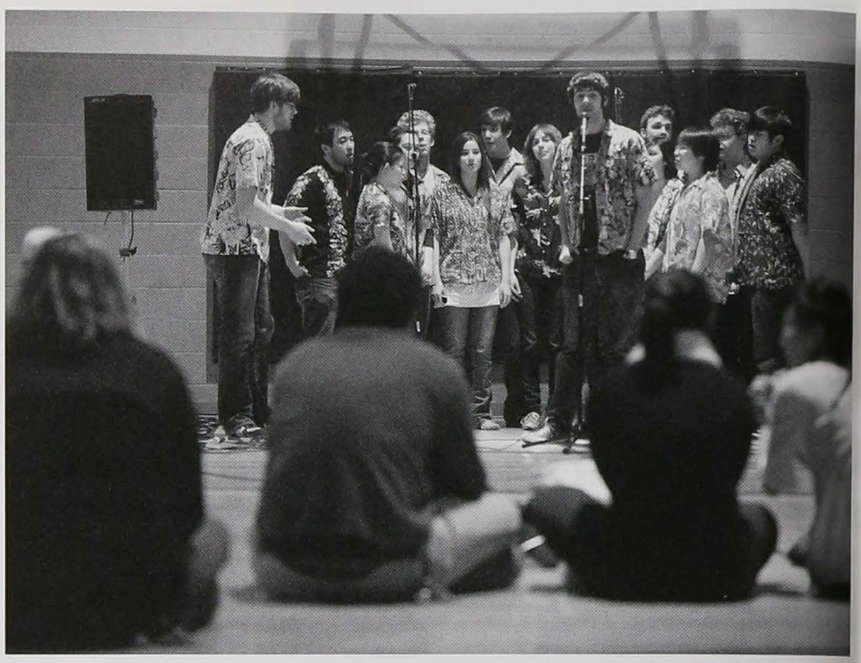
The Modern Dance Company has been at Hopkins since 1981. Modern dance seeks to express feelings through their dramatic movements. The dancers are undergraduate students, graduate students, and some faculty/staff members. In addition to working hard for performances, members teach classes open to Hopkins students. These are some talented, dedicated, hard-working dancers!

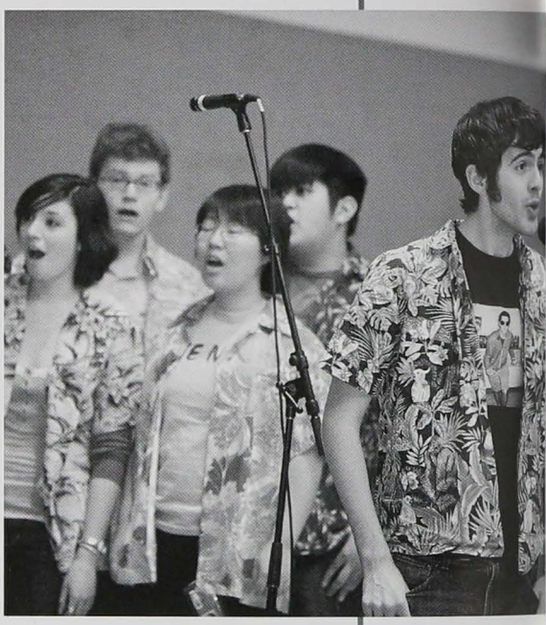


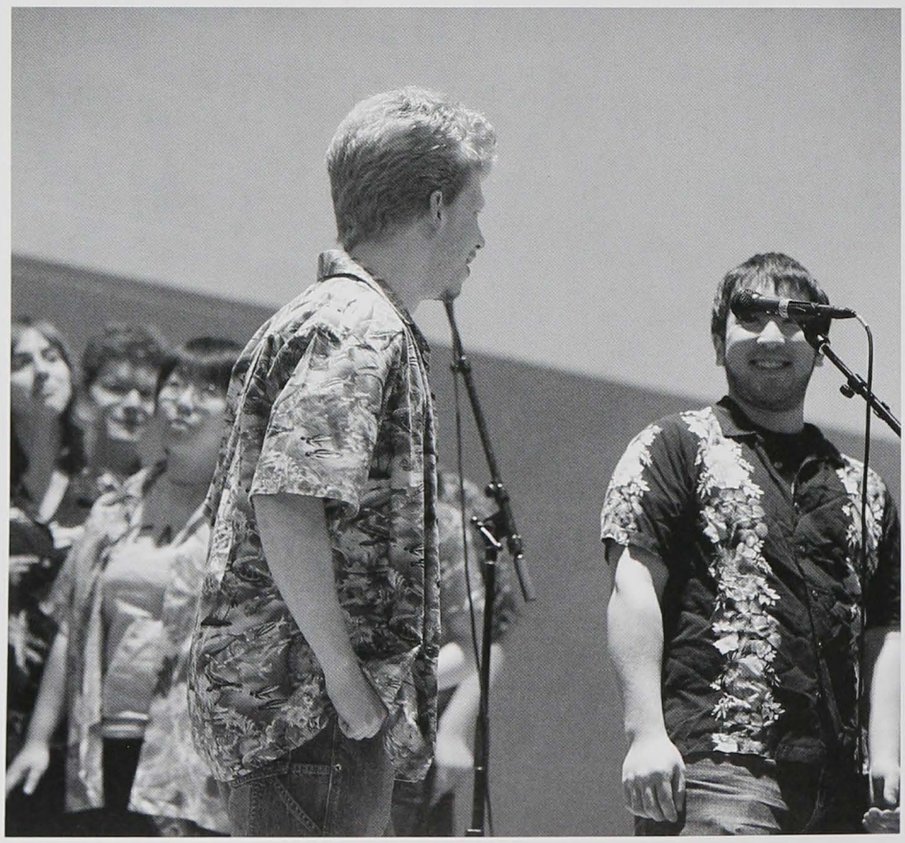


These dancers exhibit incredible grace and passion while performing.

Acapella Groups



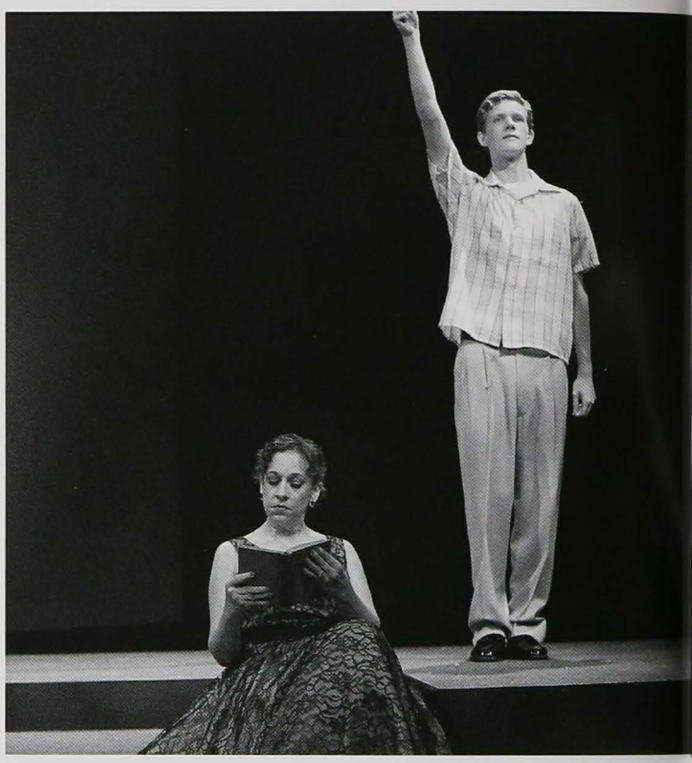


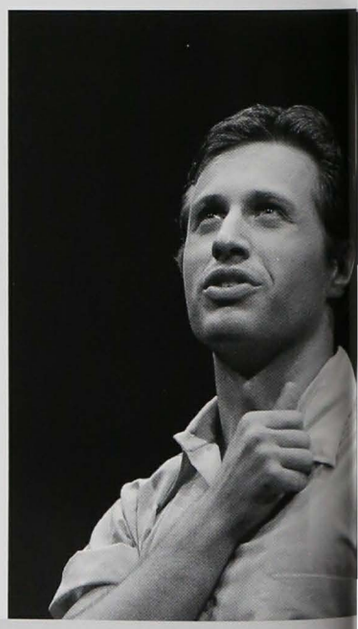


Keeping the beat and singing in sync!

These acapella singers are truly talented individuals, really keeping their audience entertained.

THEATER

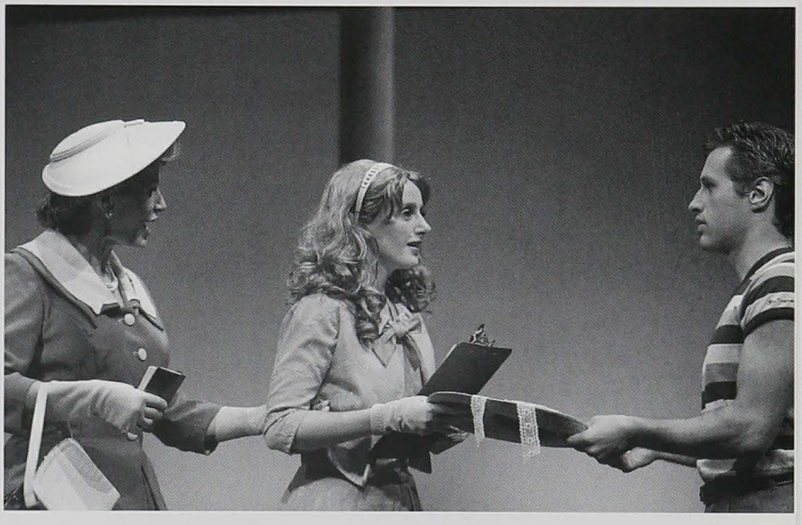




Staying in character is not always easy, but these Hopkins students sure make it seem effortless.

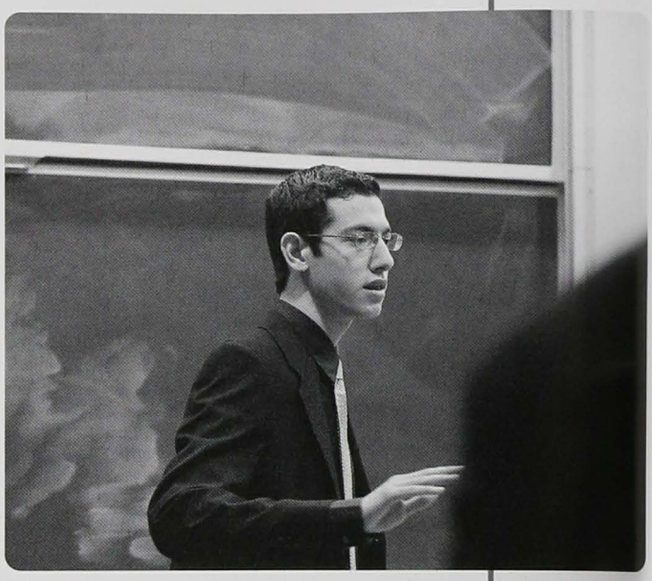
The costume designers have done an incredible job creating such believable outfits for the productions.

There is no shortage of talent in the Theatre department. Hopkins students are quite impressive on the stage!

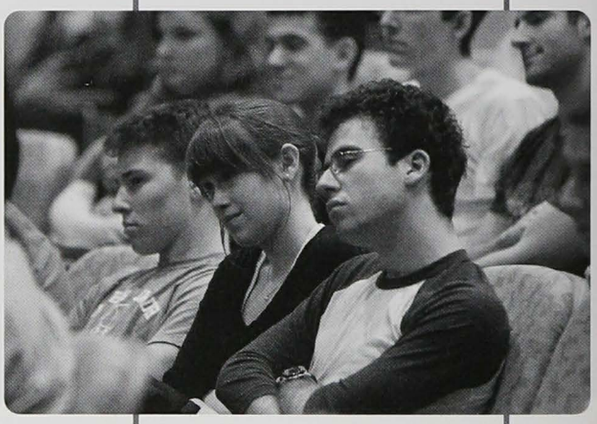


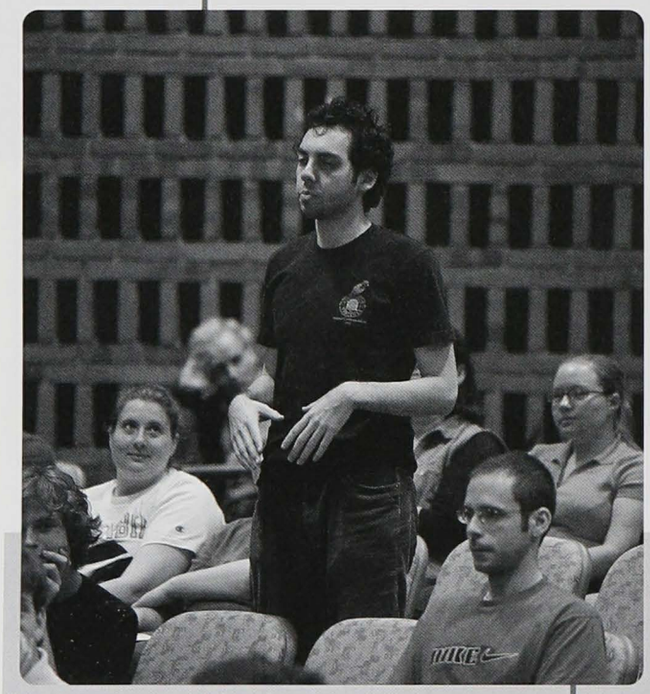
These actors and actresses are not only talented at acting but also at singing, what a feat!

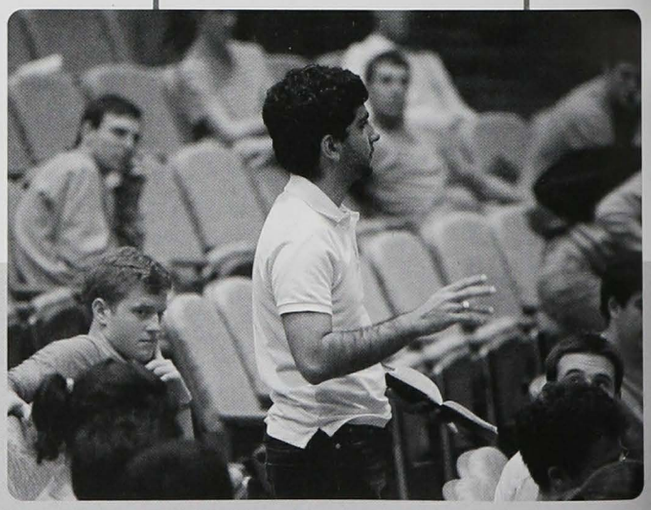
Foreign Affairs Symposium



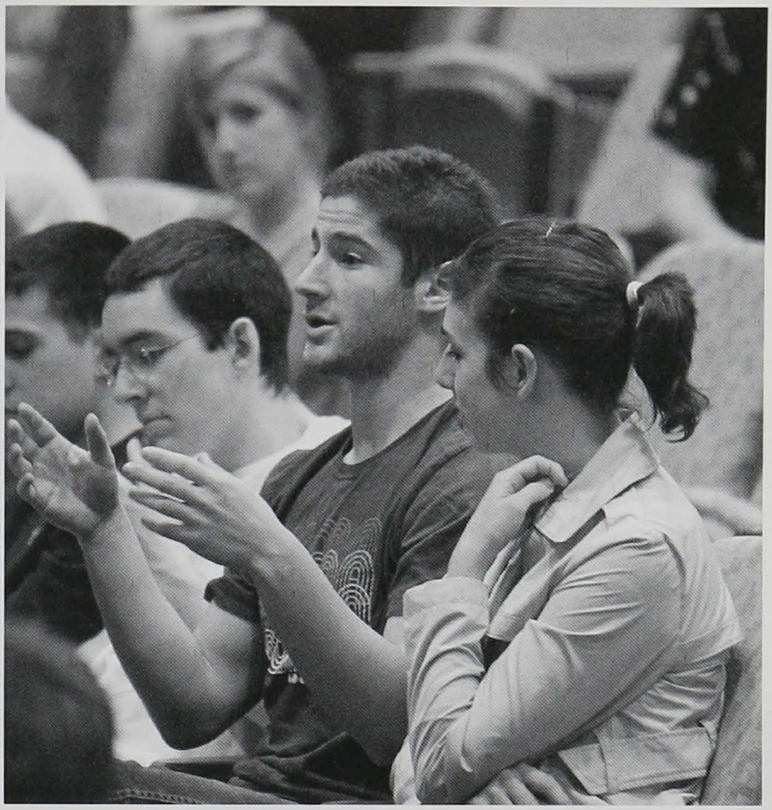
The Foreign Affairs Symposium is a student run group founded in 1998 when Woodrow Wilson International Studies and the International Studies Forum Symposia were merged.

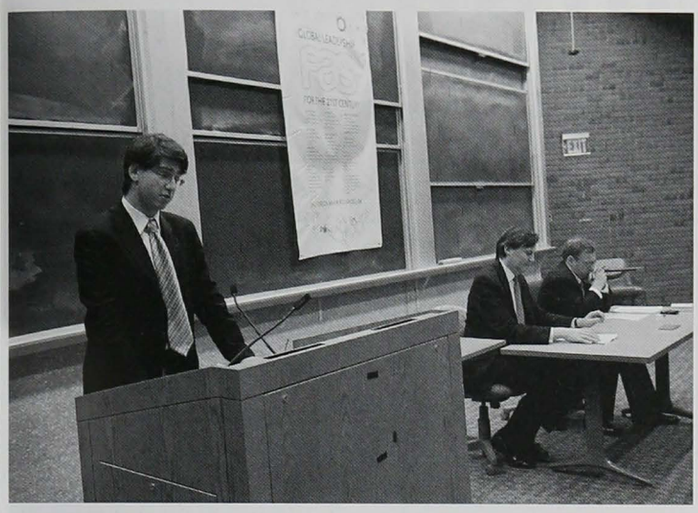


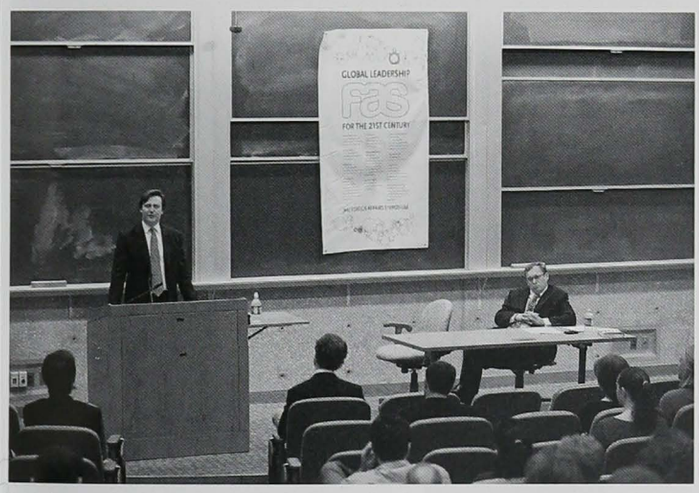


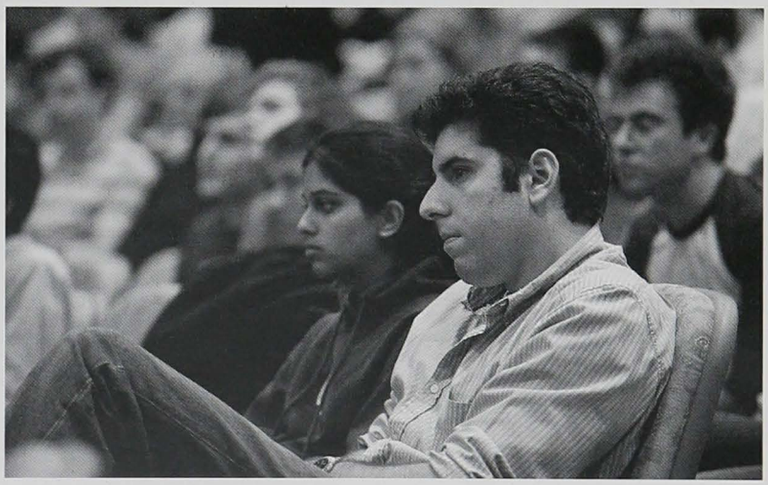


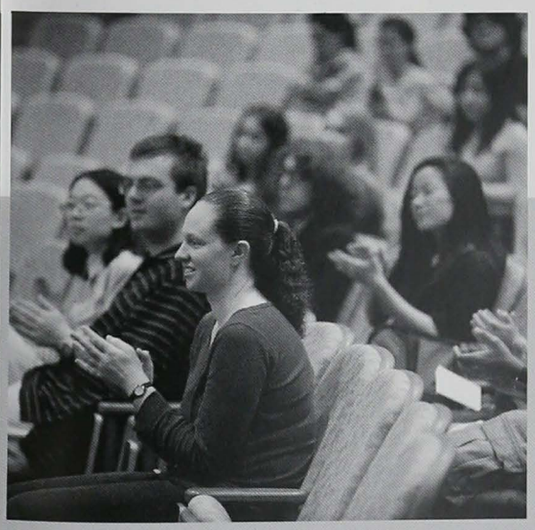
The Foreign Affairs Symposium provides the ideal forum for internationally-renowned speakers to share their ideas and for Hopkins students to learn and also be heard.

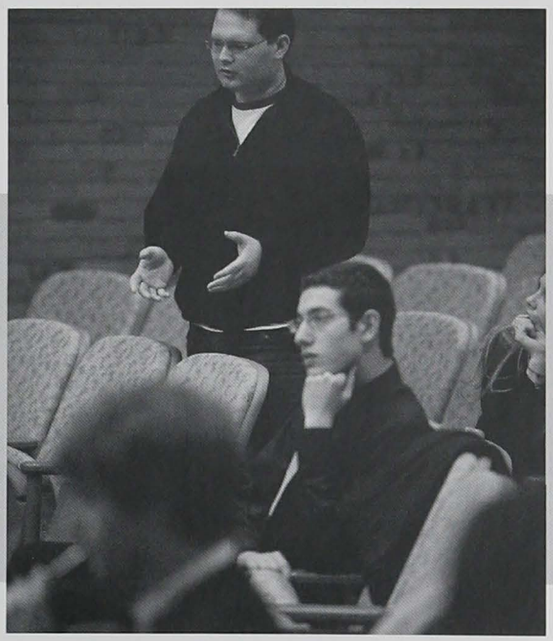












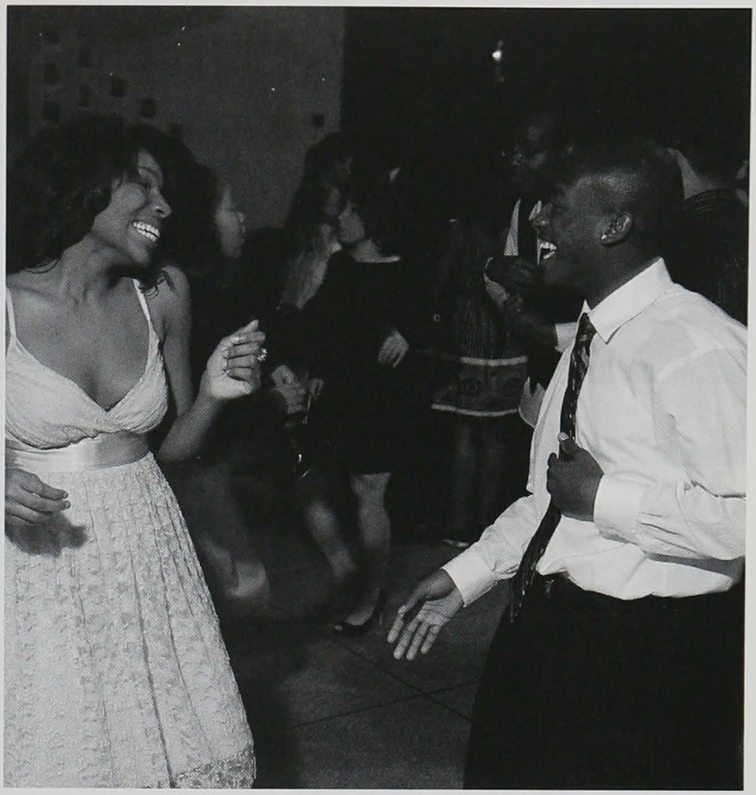
The Symposium aims to educate the Hopkins community on international issues of social, political, and economic importance.

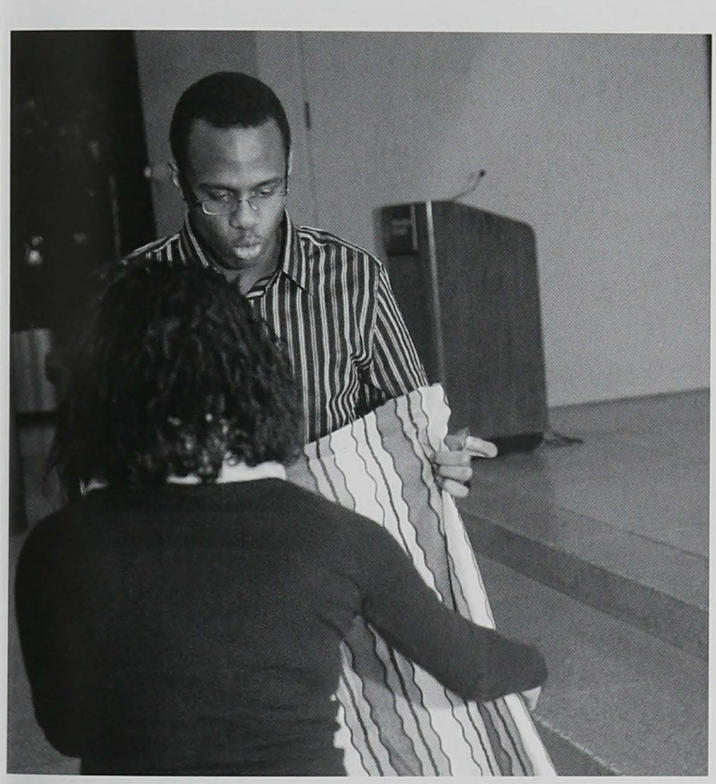
Cultural Organizations

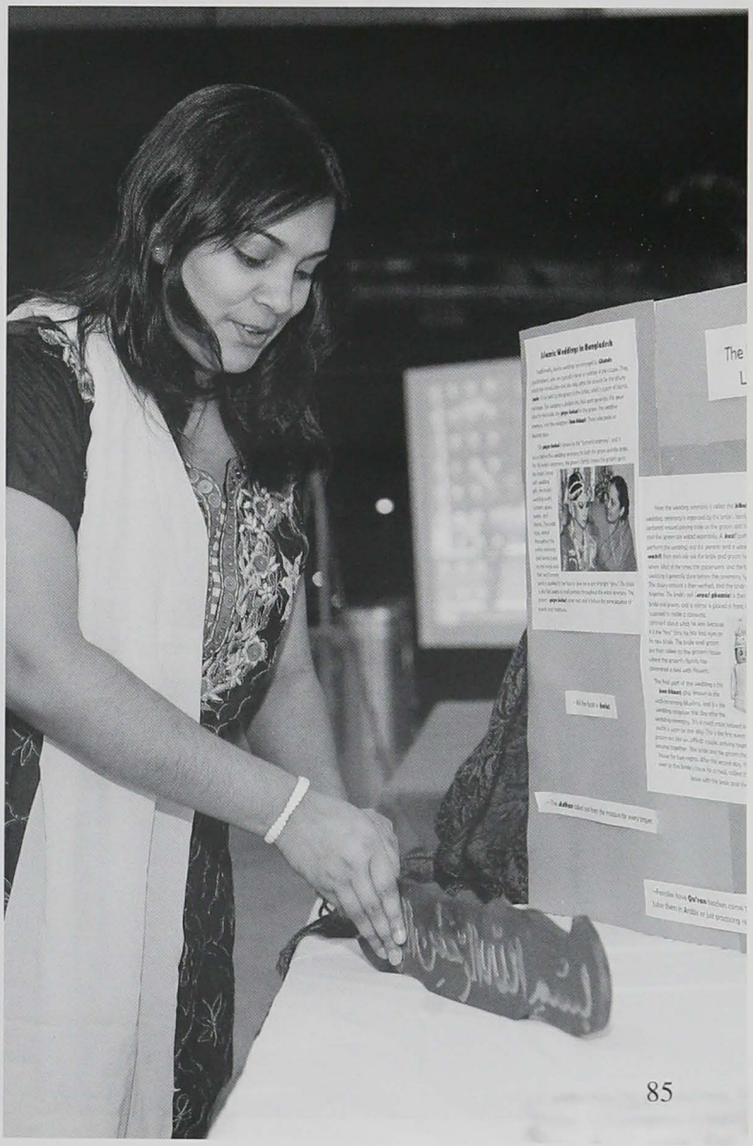
Celebrating culture and diversity at Hopkins...

Getting together with friends made in cultural organizations is a great way of bringing people together and a good break from studying.

Sharing culture and having fun at the same time! Students arrive at Hopkins from a variety of backgrounds and end up having a diverse group of friends. However, Hopkins does provide a place for people of the same culture to come together and celebrate the unique aspects of their culture.

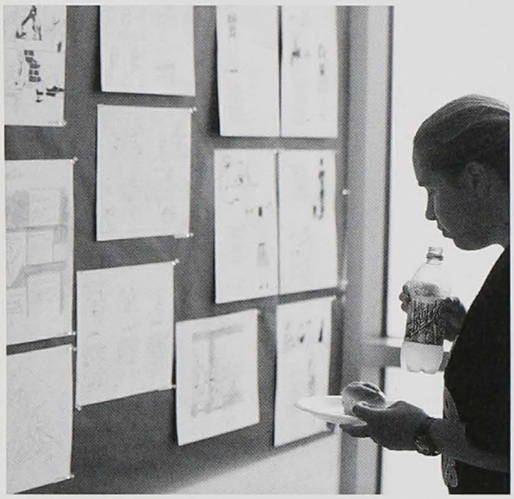




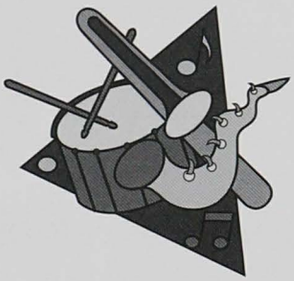


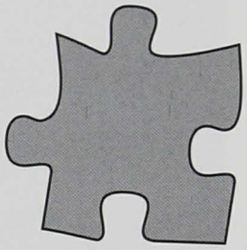
2009

Mattin Art Party



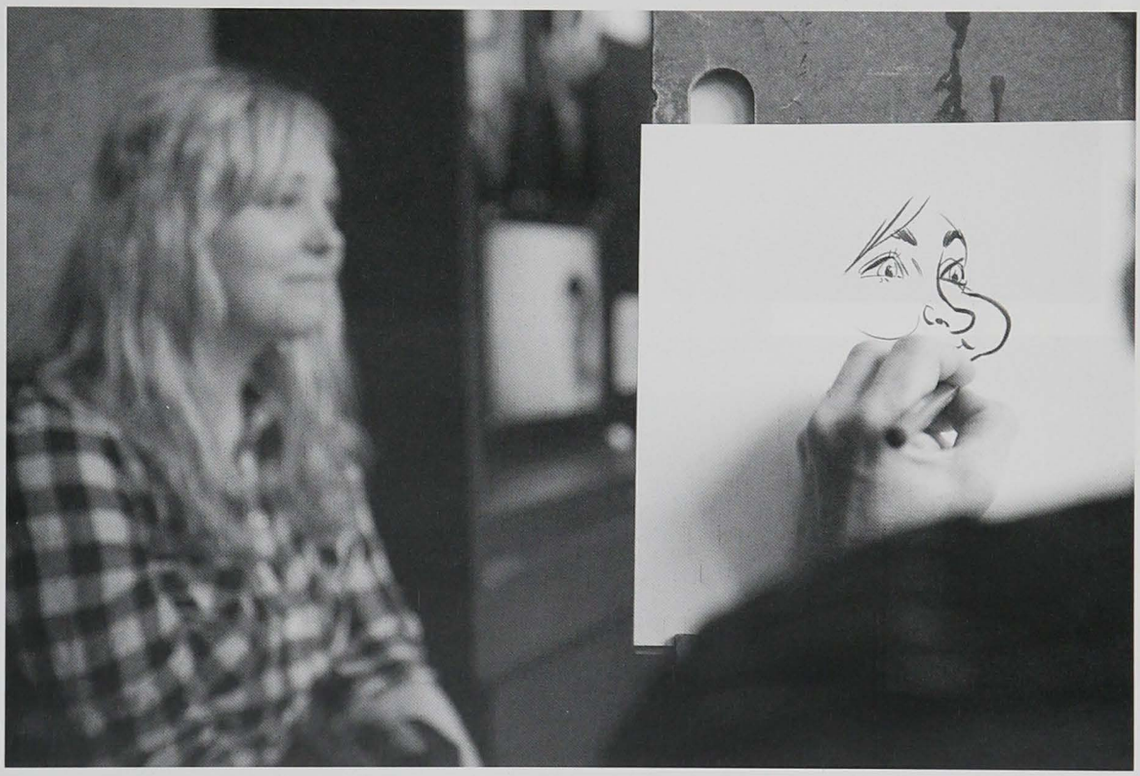
The Mattin Art Party provides a venue for a variety of different types of artists to display their artwork to the Hopkins and Baltimore communities.

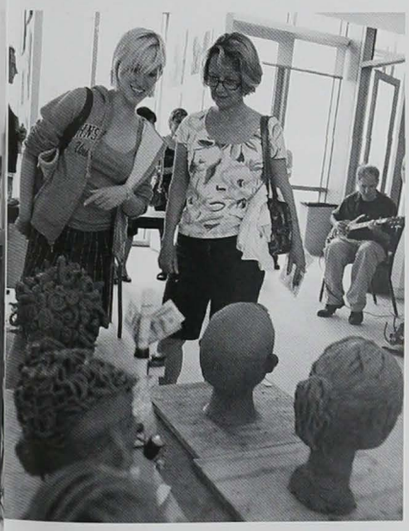


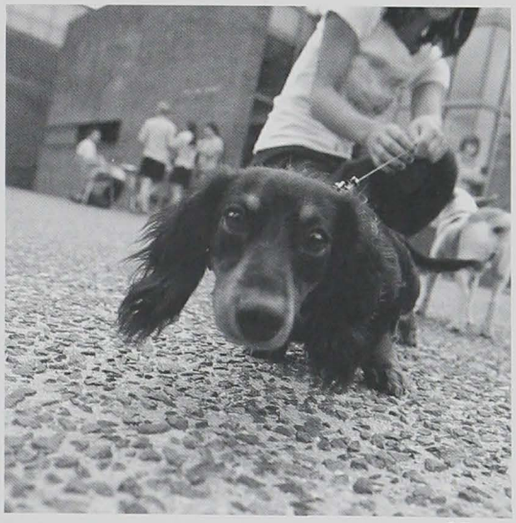


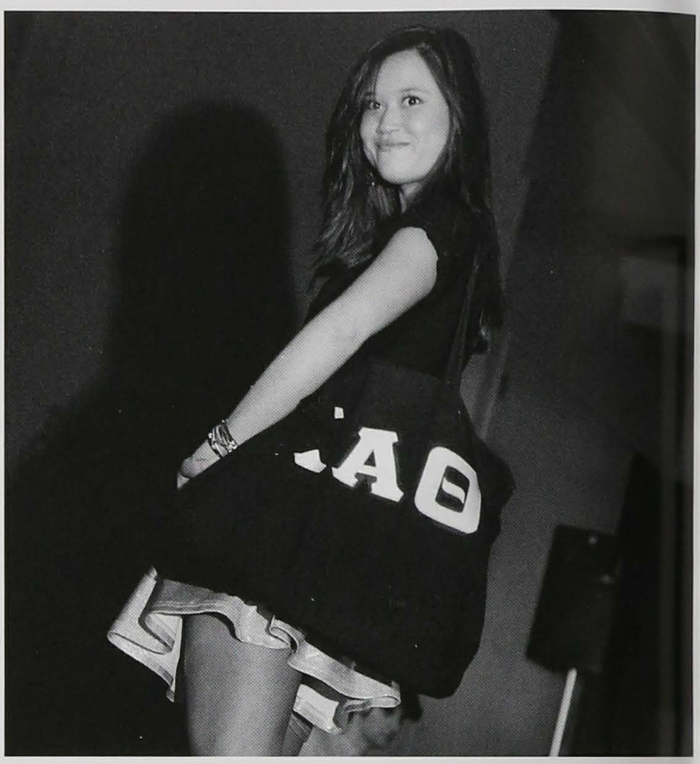
Enjoying Art...

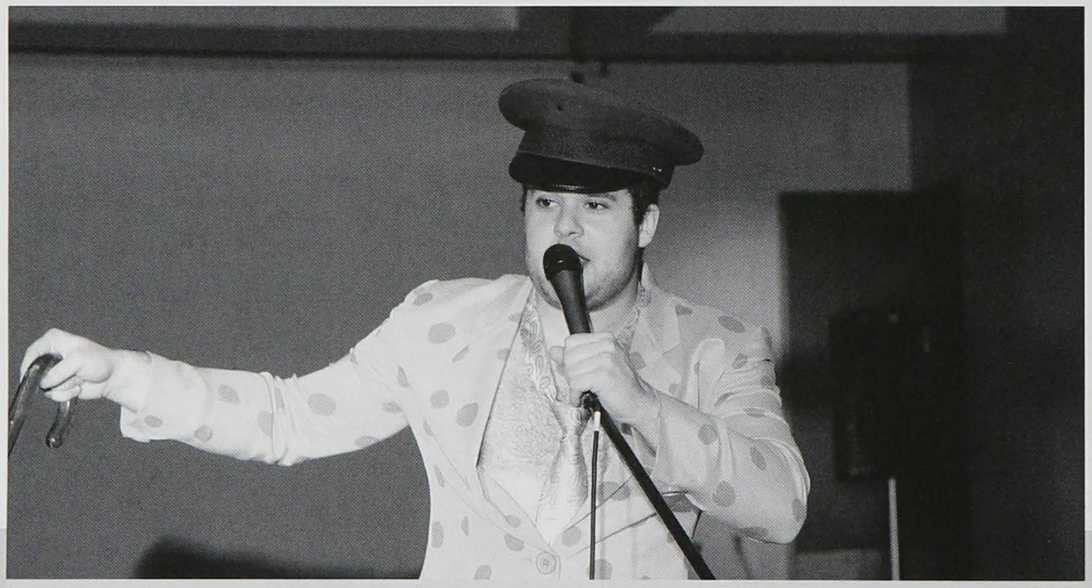
Students attend the Mattin Art party for the variety and fun times they can have. Caricature artists and musicians (and good food...) are just some of the attractions.

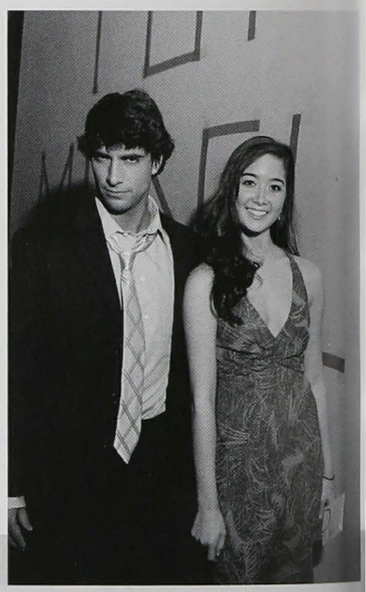






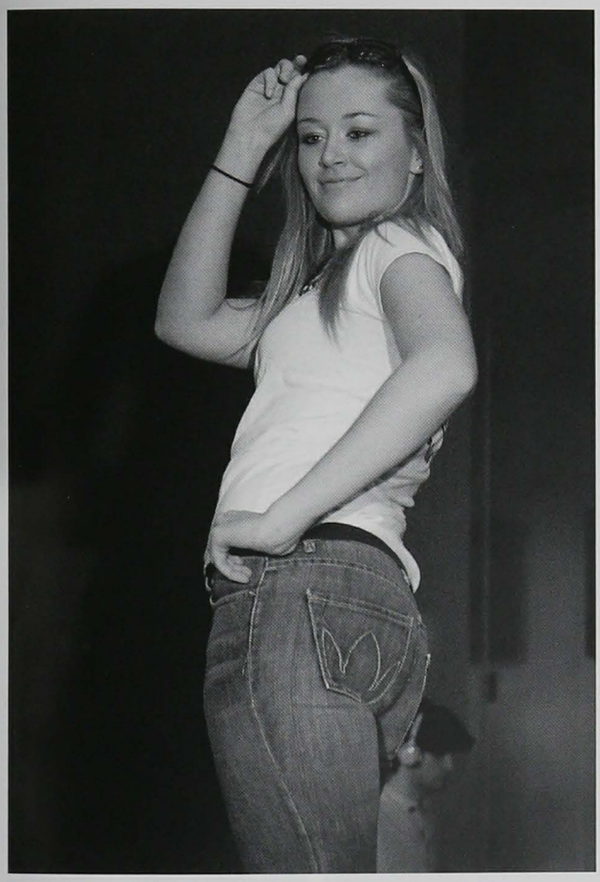


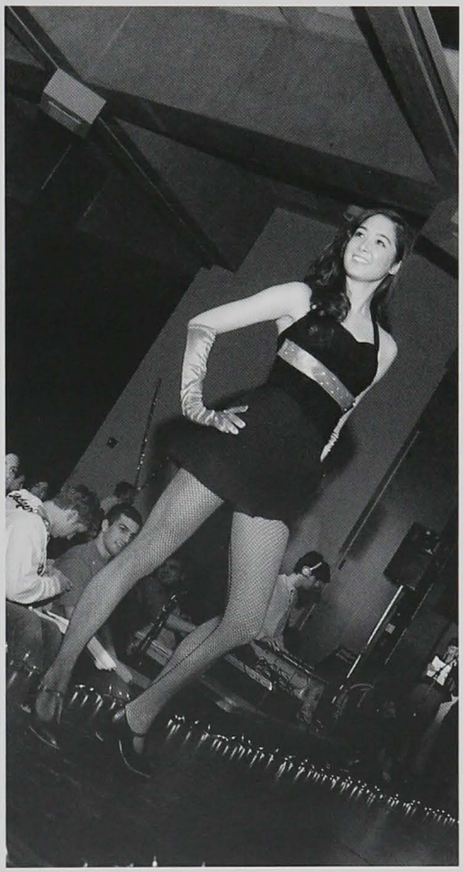




Students anxiously await the decision of the judges for the winners of this year's Hopkins Top Model

Hopkins Top Model



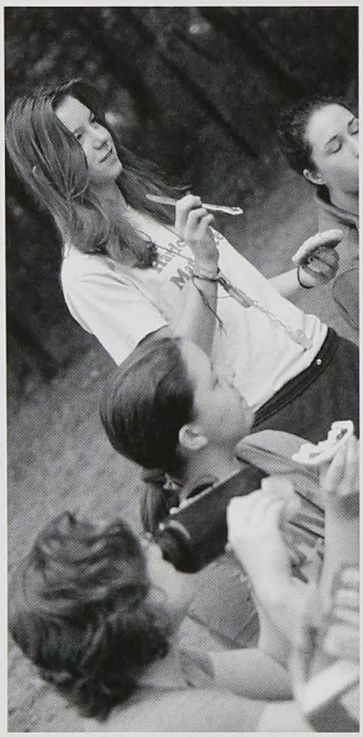


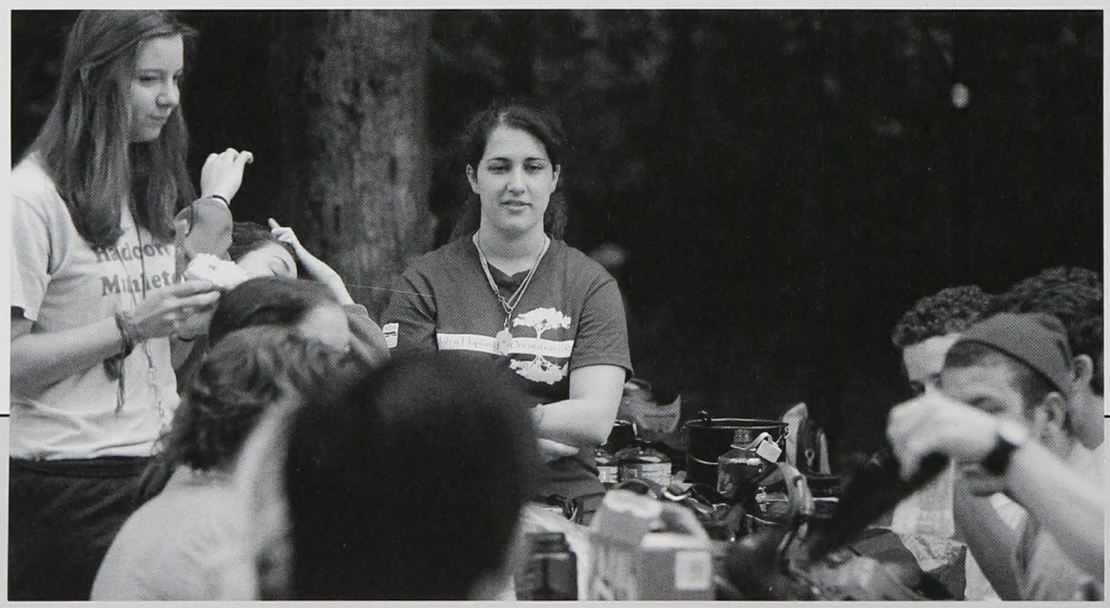
Hopkins Top Model provides students from a variety of backgrounds to strut their stuff on the catwalk. Students can choose any style of fashion to model.

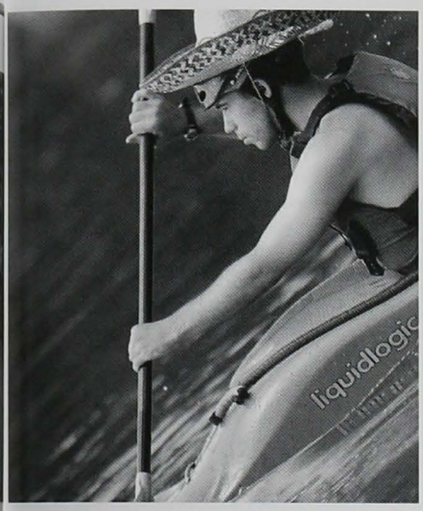
As students put their best foot forward and enjoy themselves on the runway, they also raise awareness and funds for various charitable organizations.

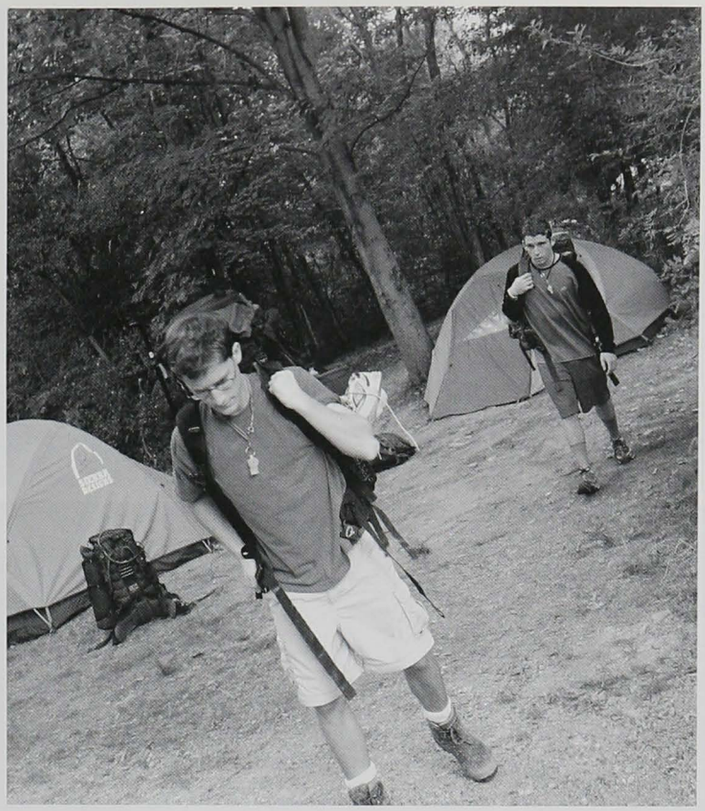
Pre-Orientation

Pre-O is a wonderful opportunity for incoming freshman to get to know each other before arriving at the Hopkins campus. A variety of outdoor exploration adventures are available to students. Everything from hiking, camping and rafting are available. Students get together for a week or two and start to form bonds with their fellow classmates before classes have even begun.







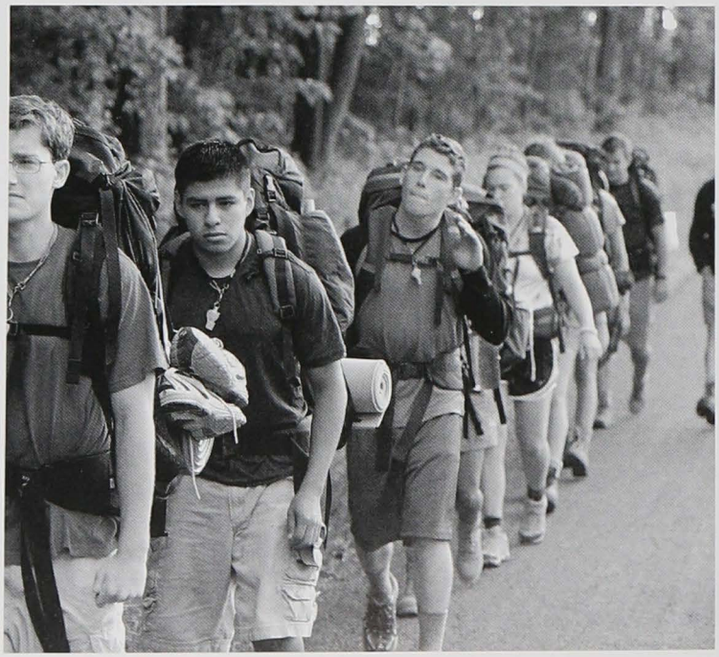


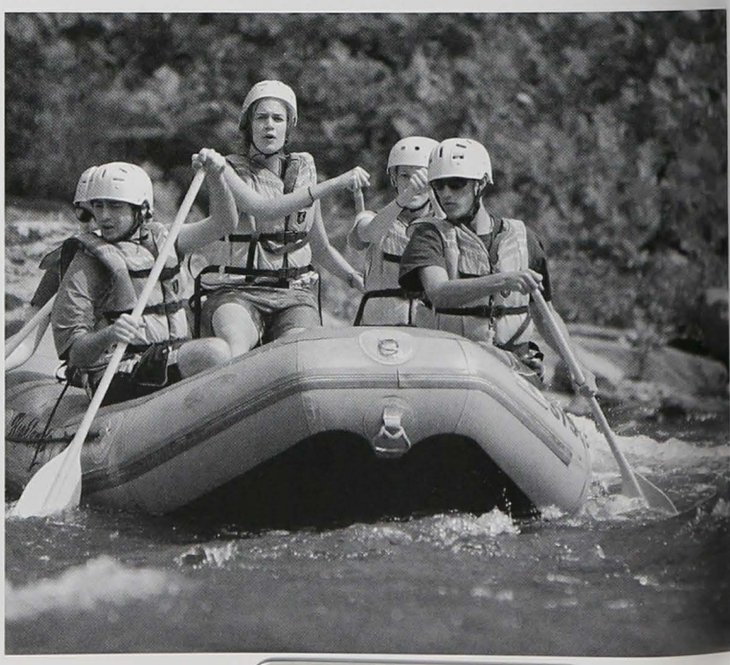
Students brave the elements and enjoy some fresh air.

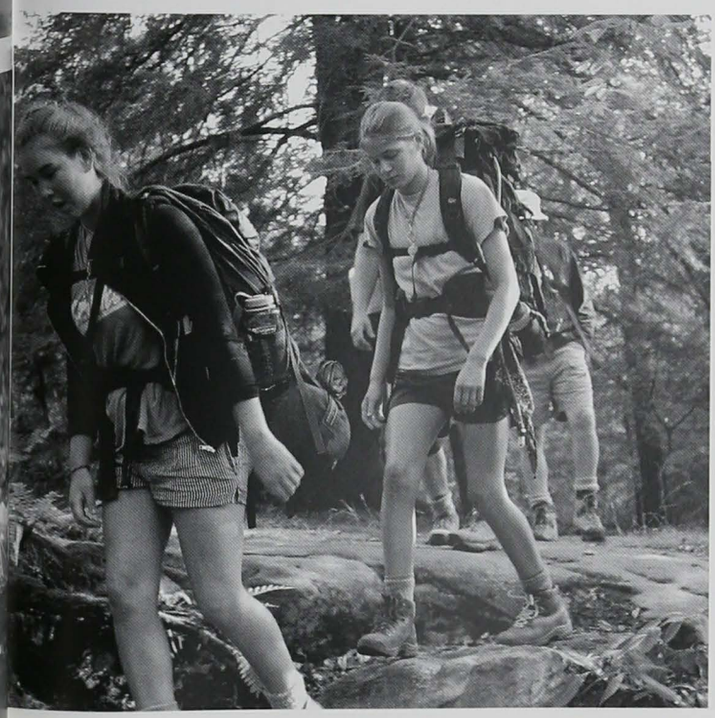
S'more about...

Pre-Orientation

Students are excited to tackle the rapid waters.

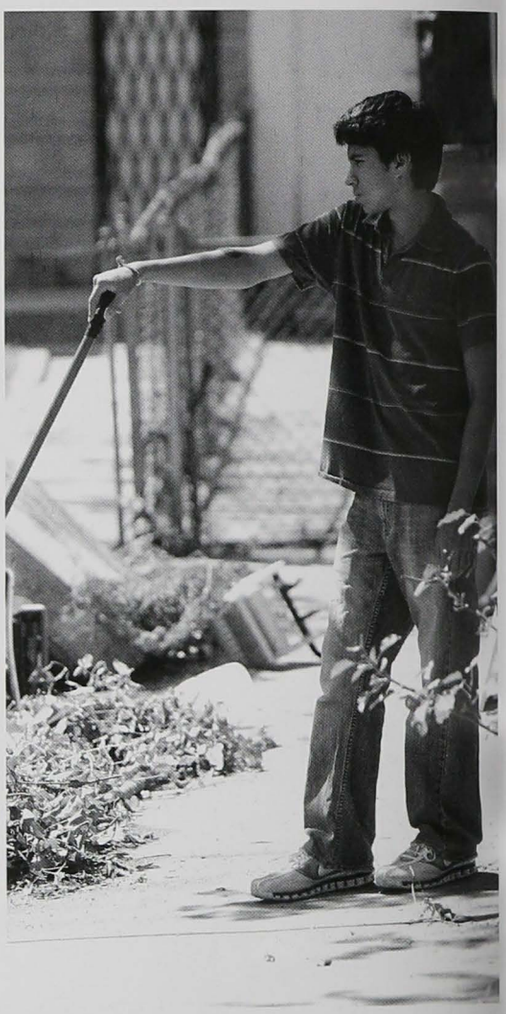


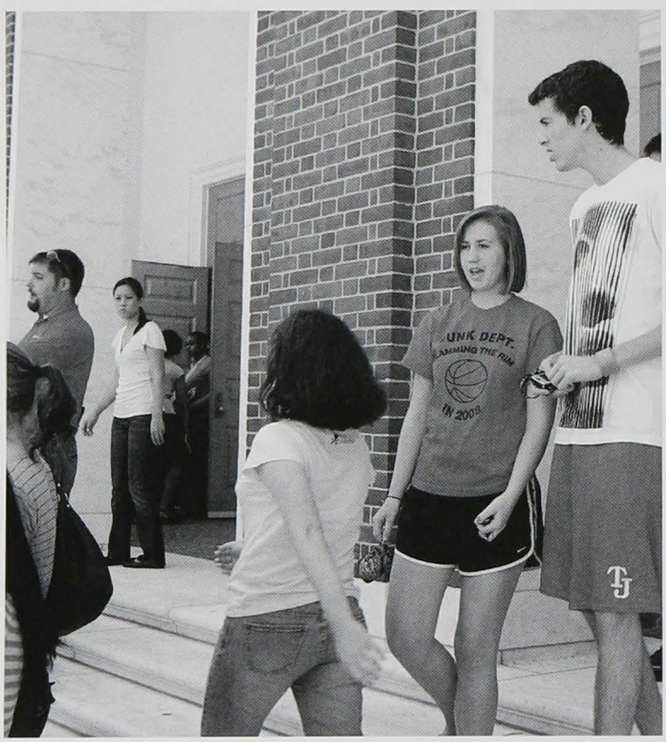




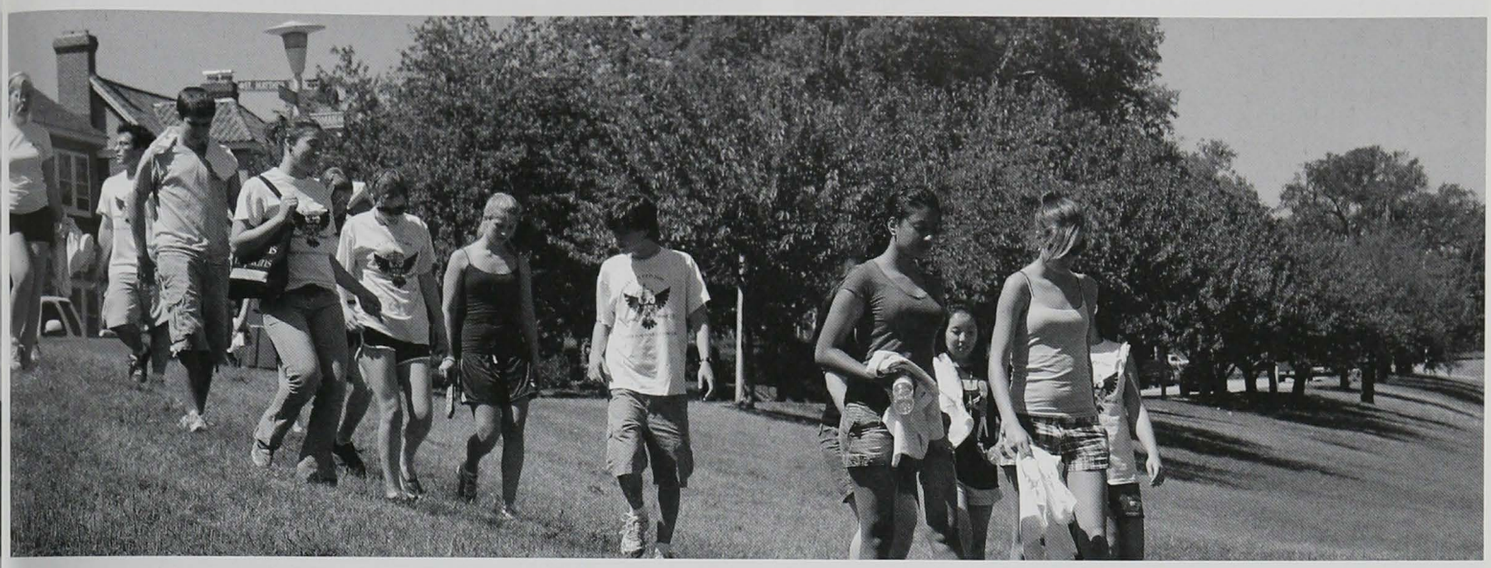
Students paddle through the river and hike through the woods to experience the nature available to them in Maryland.

Freshman Orientation



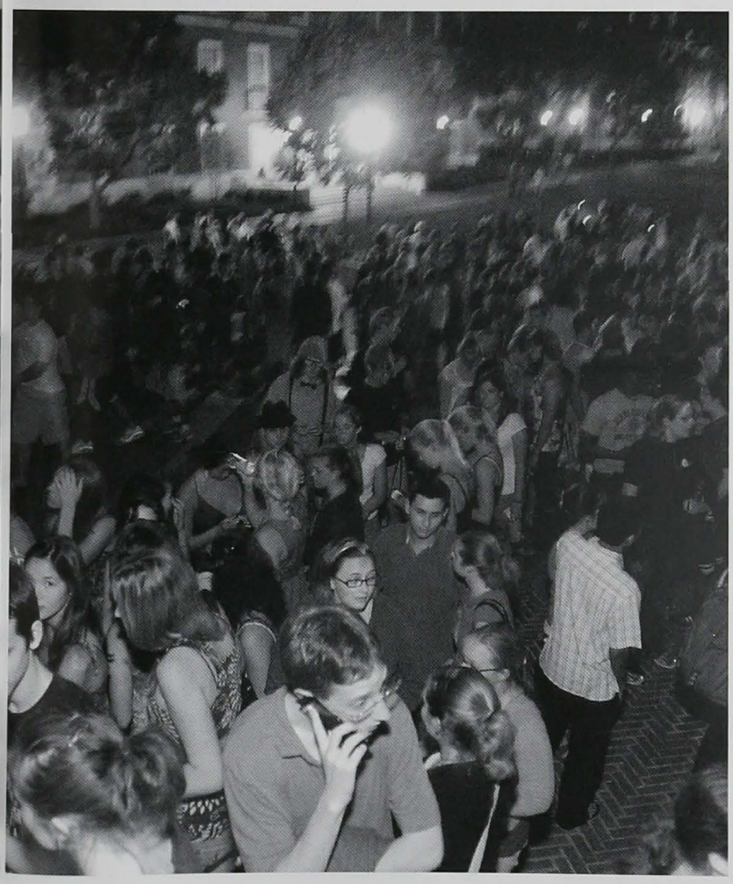


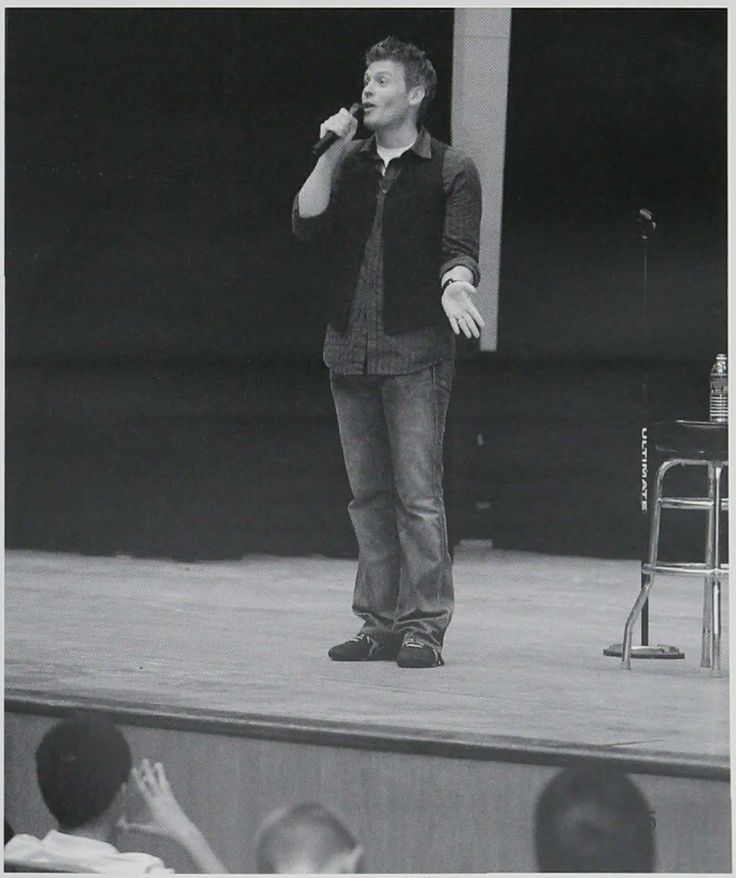
Students explore the Hopkins campus and go out in the community to provide service to Baltimore on their Involved! day.

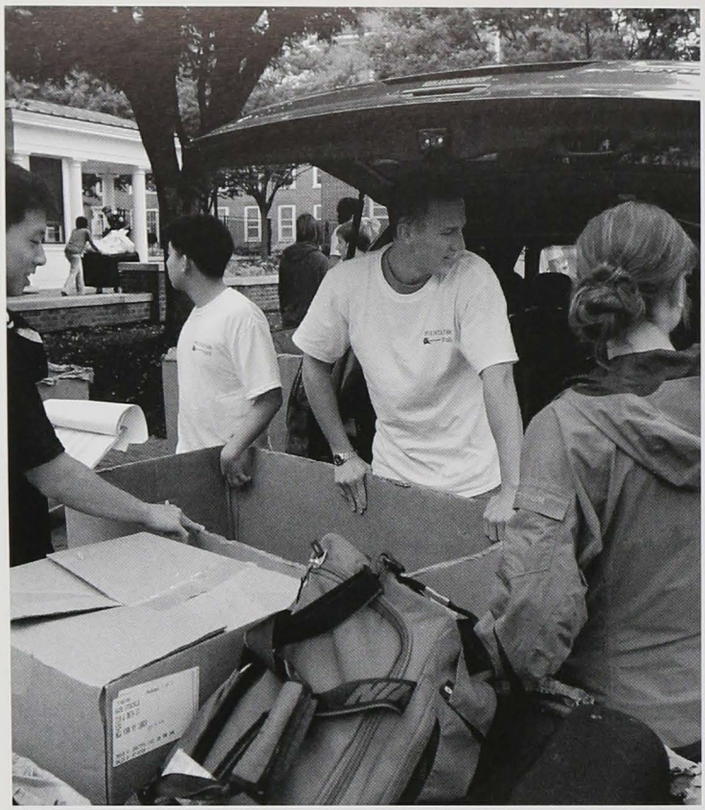


The day is finally here!!!!

All summer long, incoming freshman looked forward to everything that Hopkins would hold for them. And now, that day is finally here. Students arrive on campus pumped up for all the orientation activities planned for them and eager to learn all the organizations, knowledge, friendships and memories that Hopkins will hold for them.

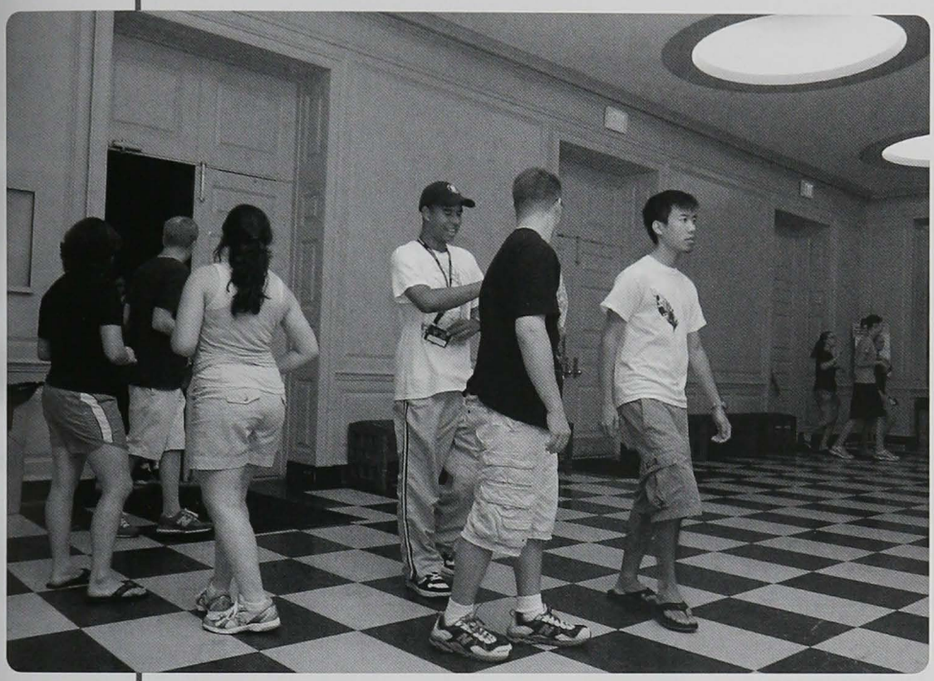






Students arrive on campus bright and early ready to sort through all their belongings and see the place that will be their home for the next 9 months. Volunteers help move in the freshman's belongings while the new arrivals get their J-Card and dorm keys. There is definitely an air of excitement at these early hours of move-in weekend.

Freshman Orientation

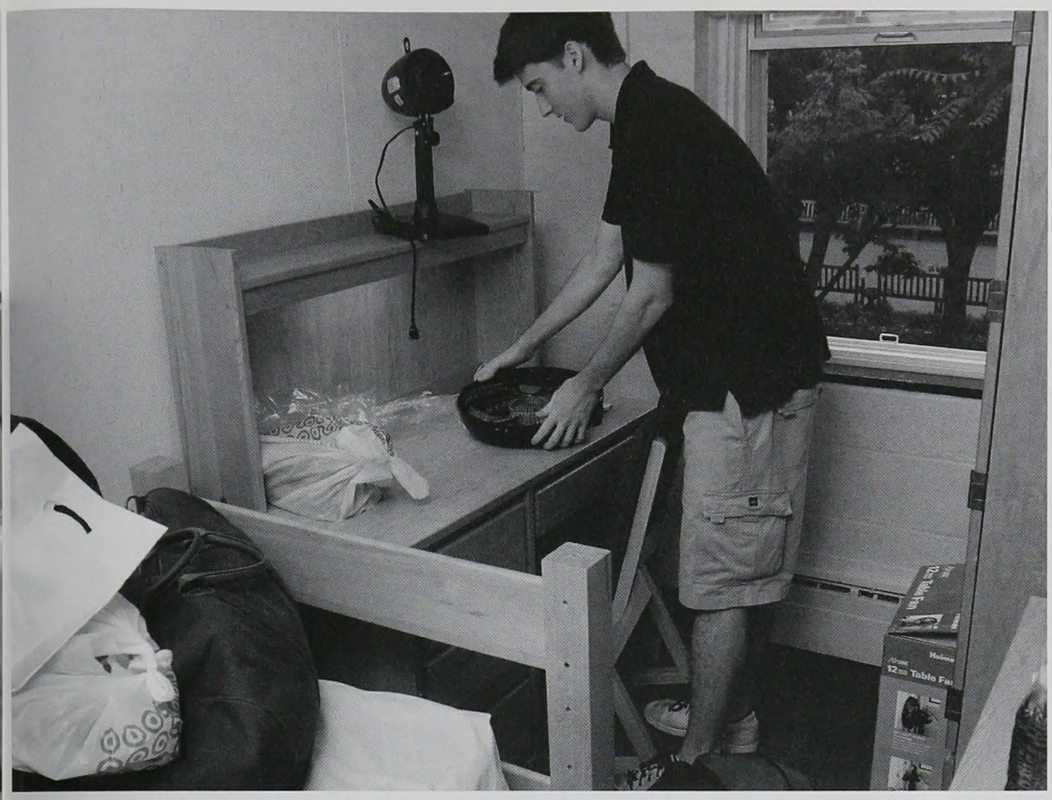


Students excitedly attend the evening events planned during orientation even after a busy day of moving in and unpacking.

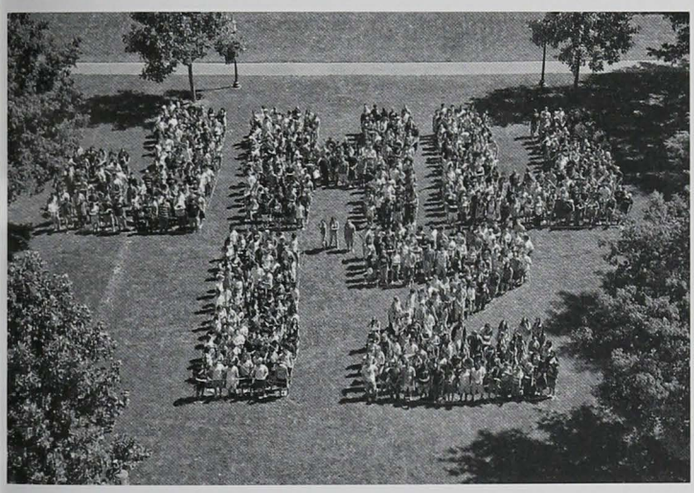
Move-In

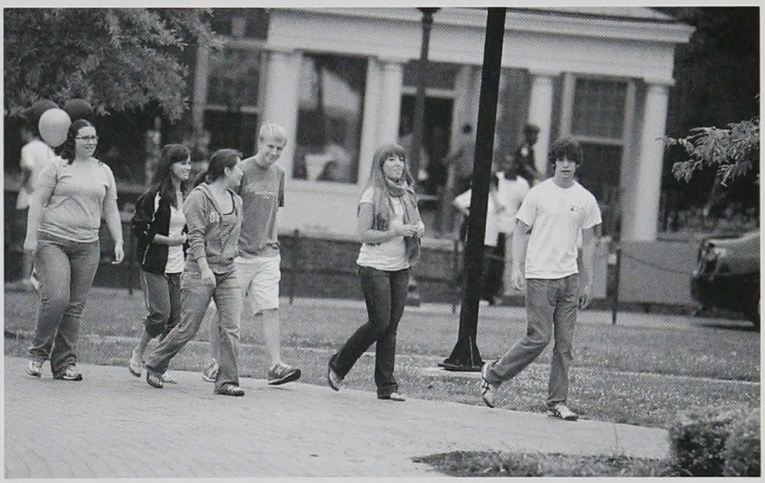
Former President Brody greets parents as they come to drop-off the freshmen and unload carloads of belongings at the dorms to start their college experience.

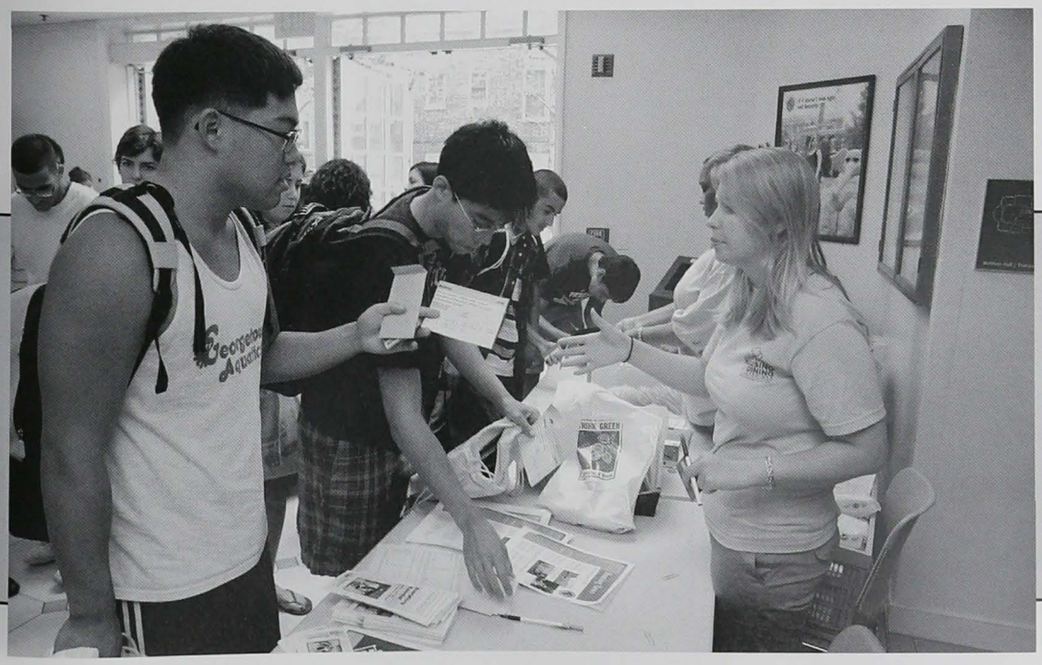
Parents help their children unpack their belongings and get settled in their new homes!



Getting set up for the exciting year ahead! Getting to know the dormitories, campus and fellow Hopkins students is so much fun.



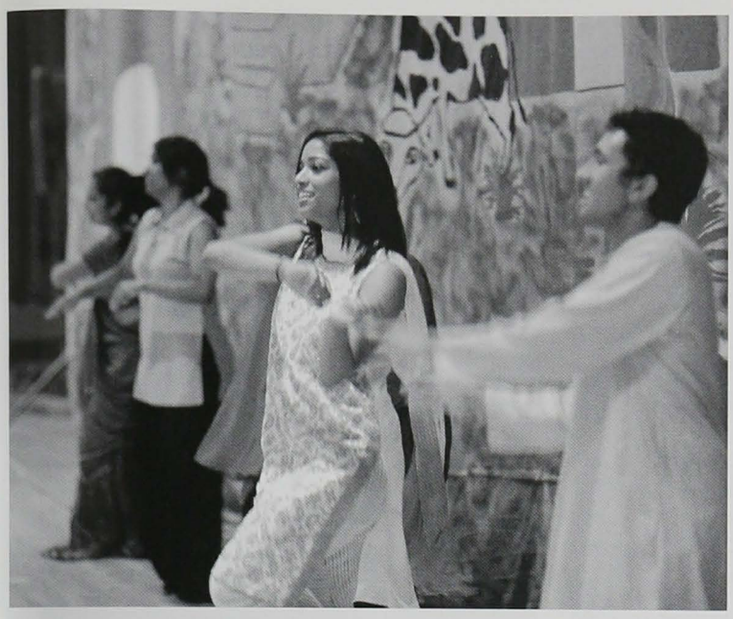


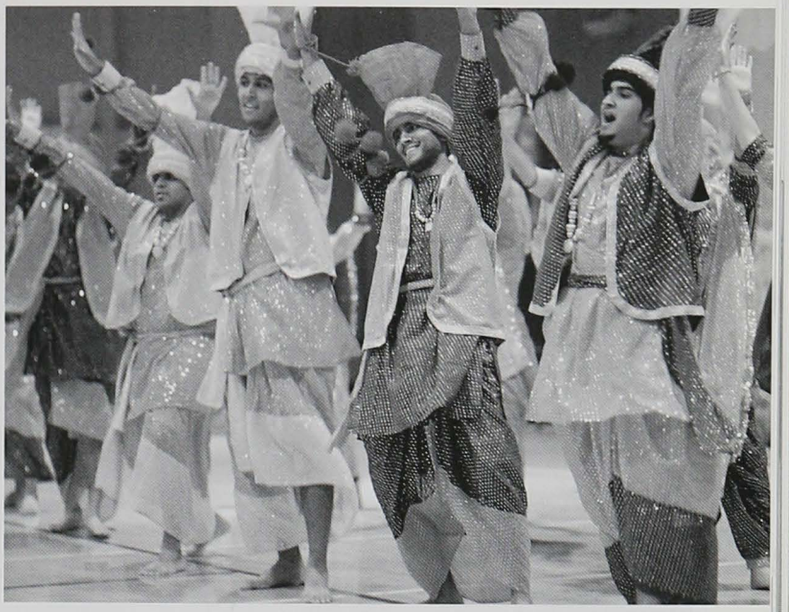


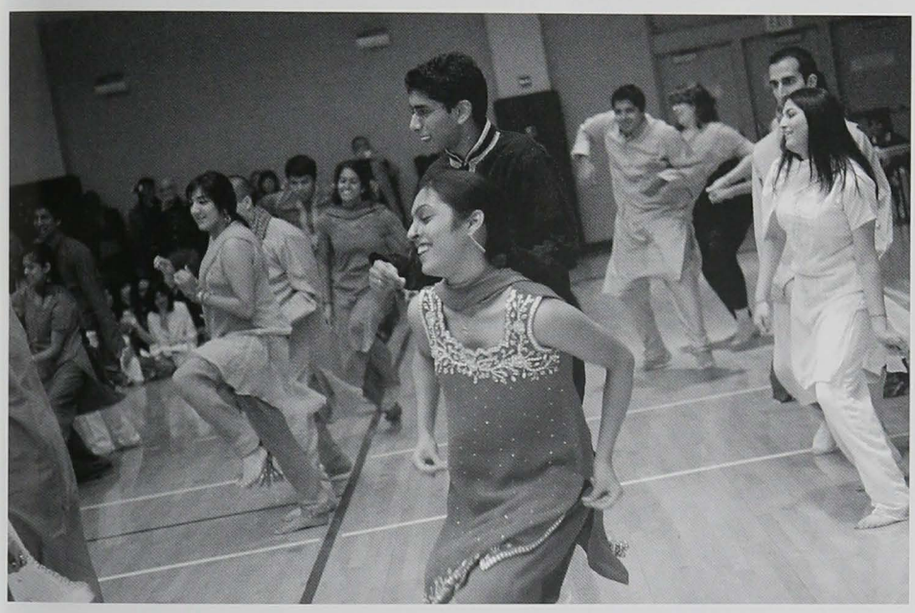
Checking in to get keys at the Wolman residence hall, a very exciting step for freshmen!

Diwali Celebration

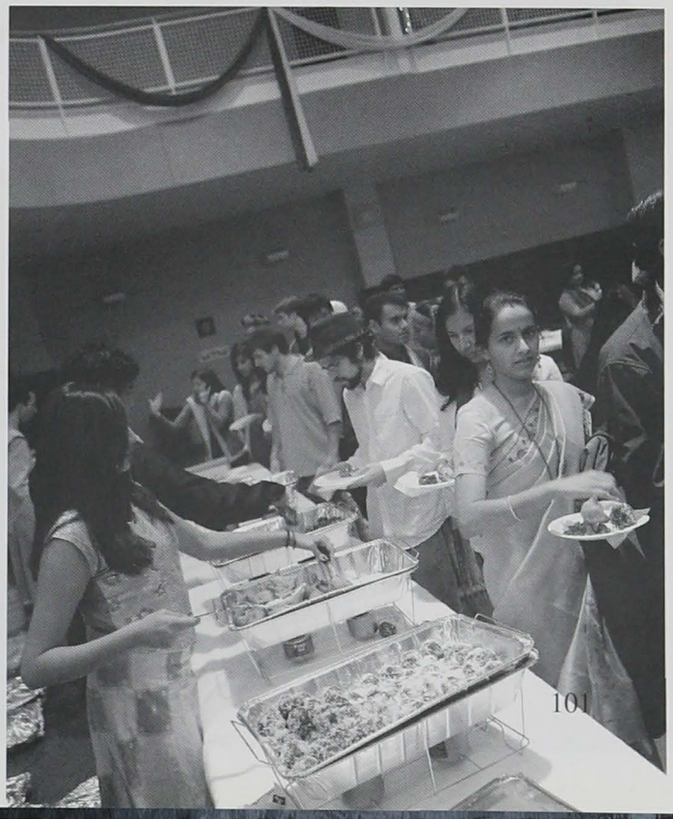
The Diwali program organized by both the Hindu Student Council and the South Asian Students at Hopkins is a great opportunity for visitng parents to get a taste of Indian culture. Diwali is a national Indian holiday commemorated with religious ceremonies, special food, dancing and singing, much like the Diwali celebration at Hopkins!



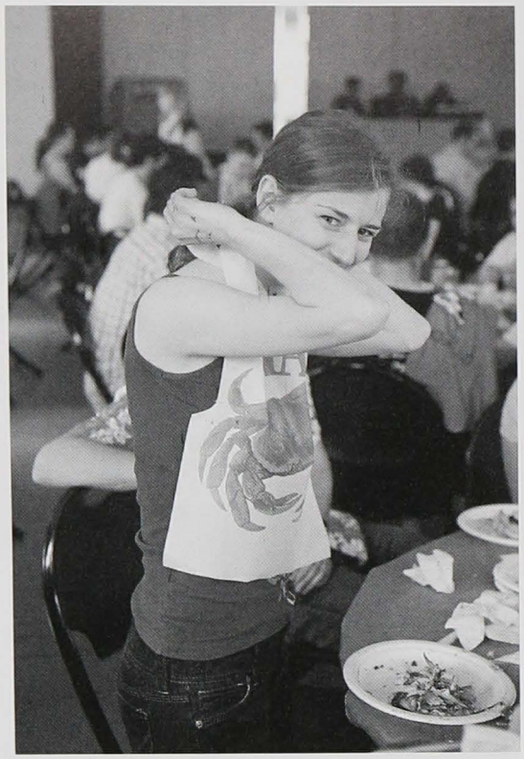


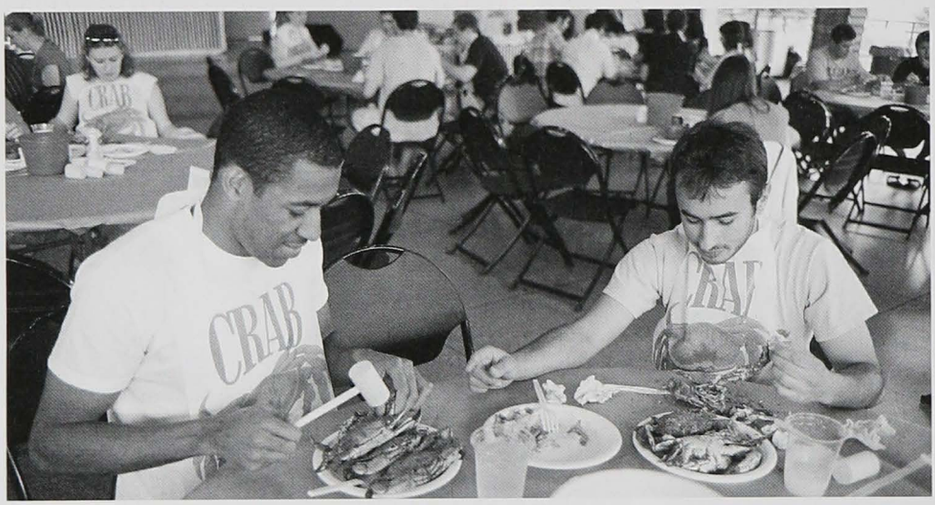


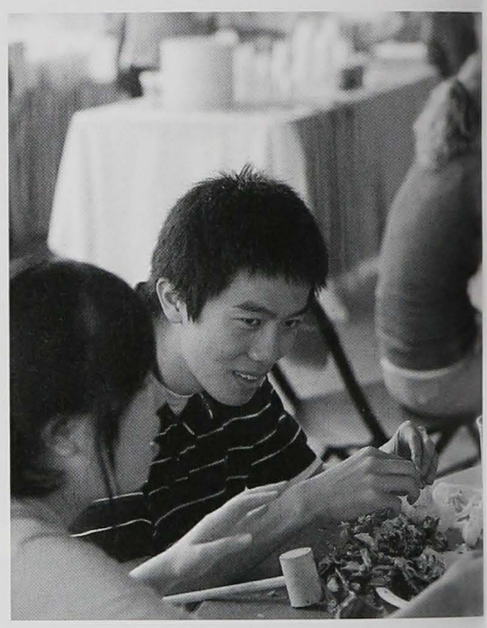
The Diwali program is a great opportunity for many of the great student performance groups at Hopkins to showcase their talents and hard work. Kranti, the Indian acapella group, Shakti, the classical Indian dance group and Hopkins' bhangra and raas dance teams perform.

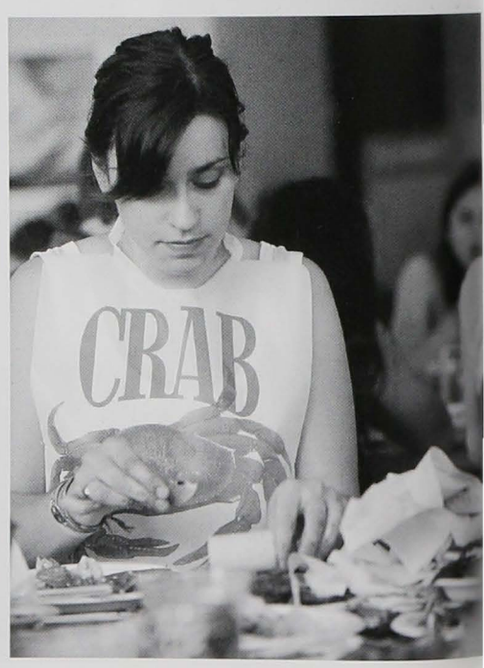


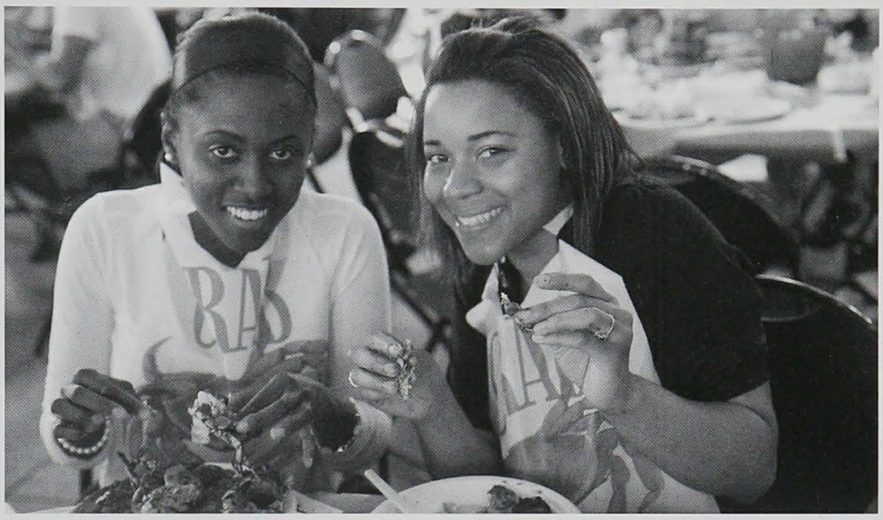
Crab Feast



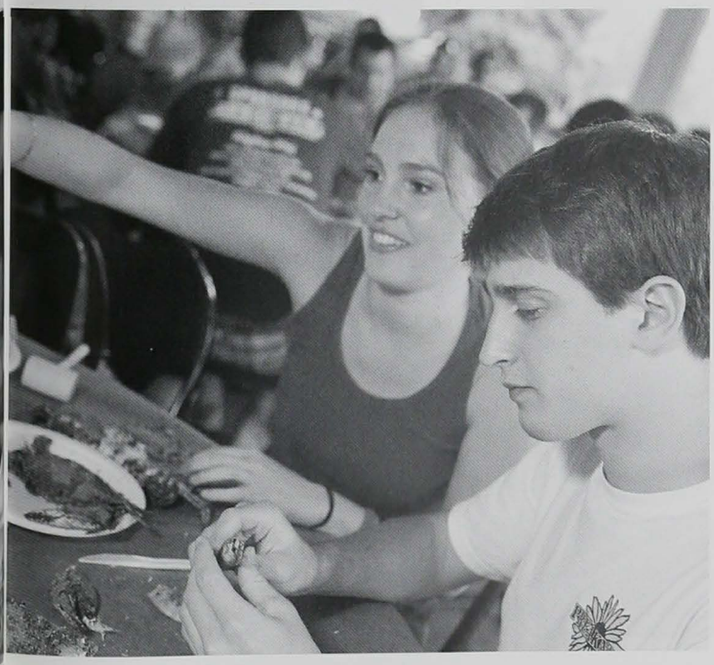






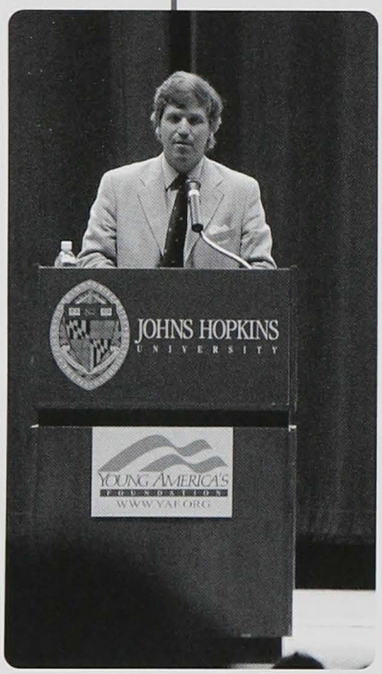


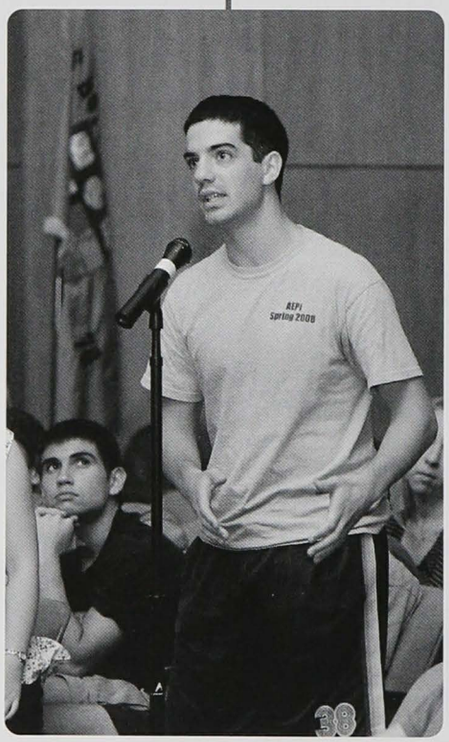
Current seniors celebrate their last year at Hopkins with a huge crab feast with all their friends!



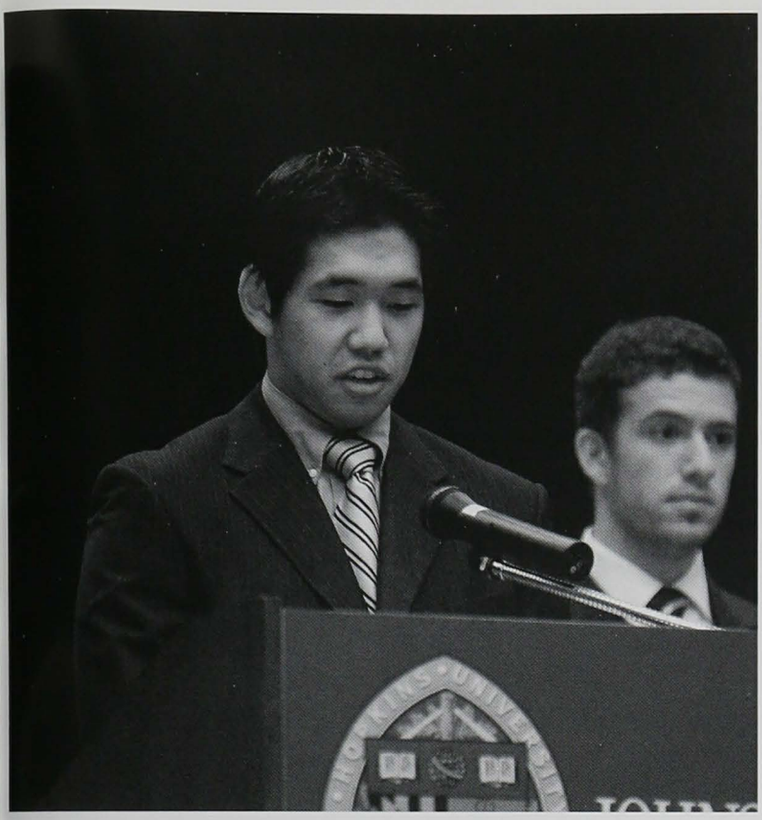
MSE Symposium

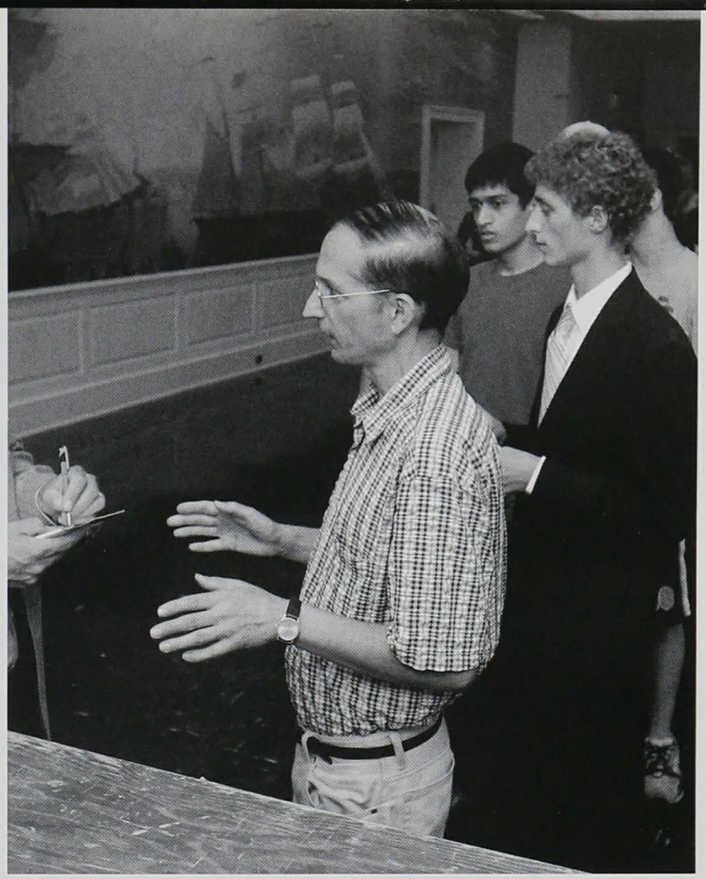
The Symposium is run entirely by undergraduate students at Hopkins. Yearly, a theme is selected, speakers chosen, funds raised, student volunteers mobilized and events are then publicized.

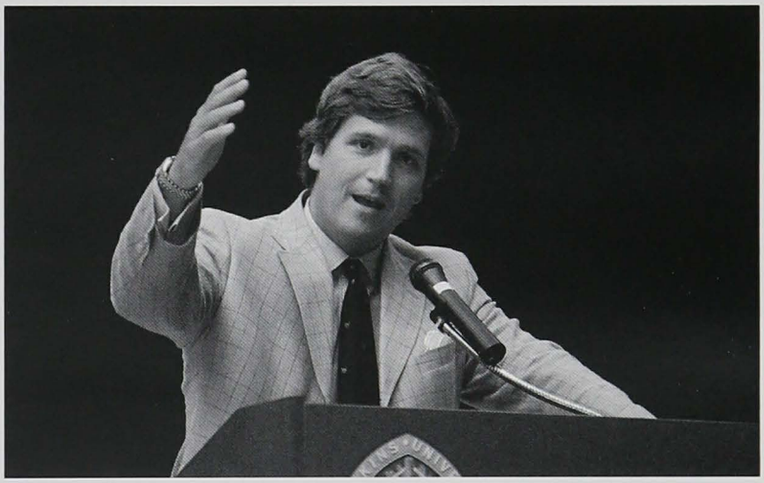


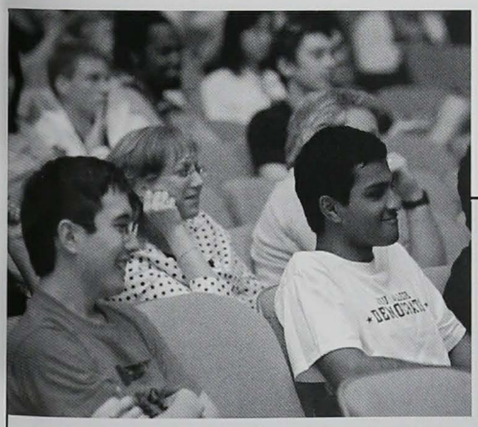


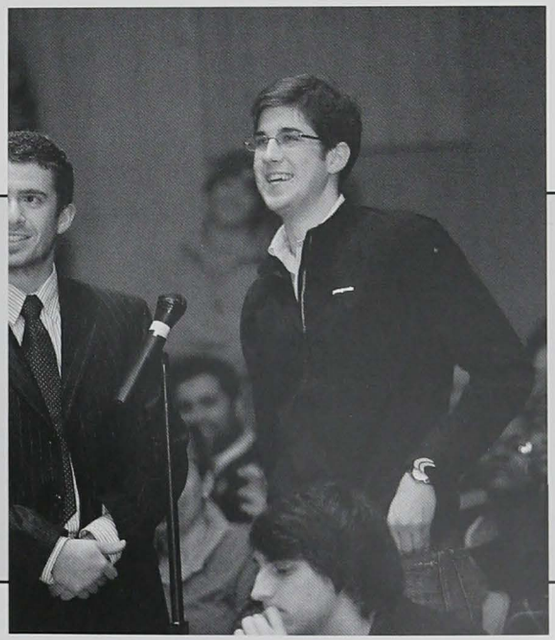
The Symposium is a forum for the free exchange of ideas and analysis of important issues.







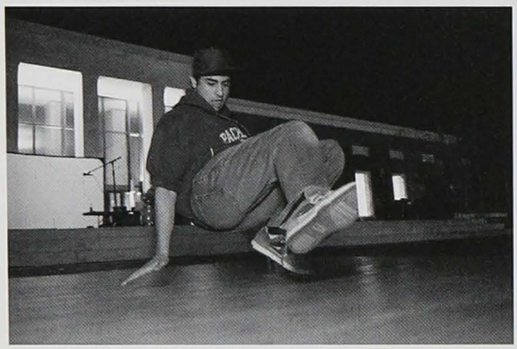




The Symposium is known for attracting some very prominent leaders, politicians, artists and scholars.

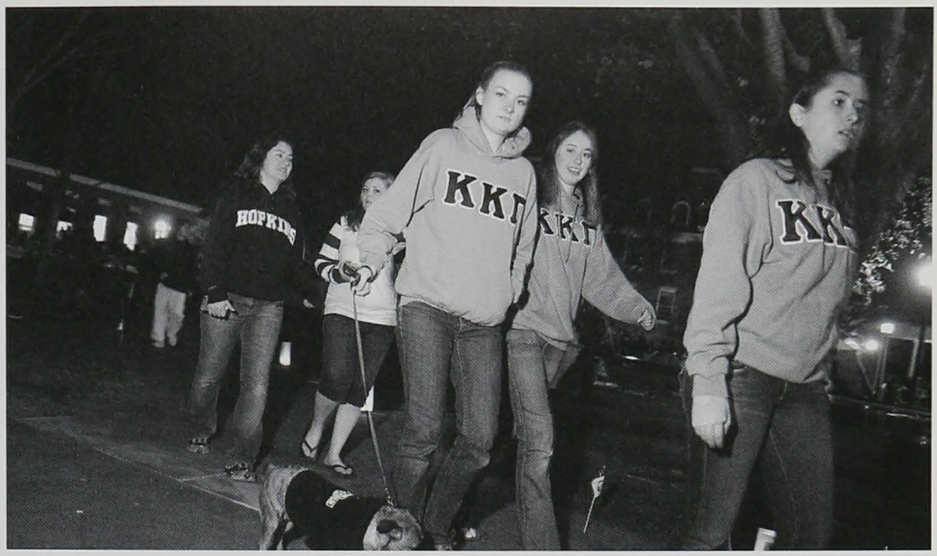
Fighting Against Cancer

Relay for Life

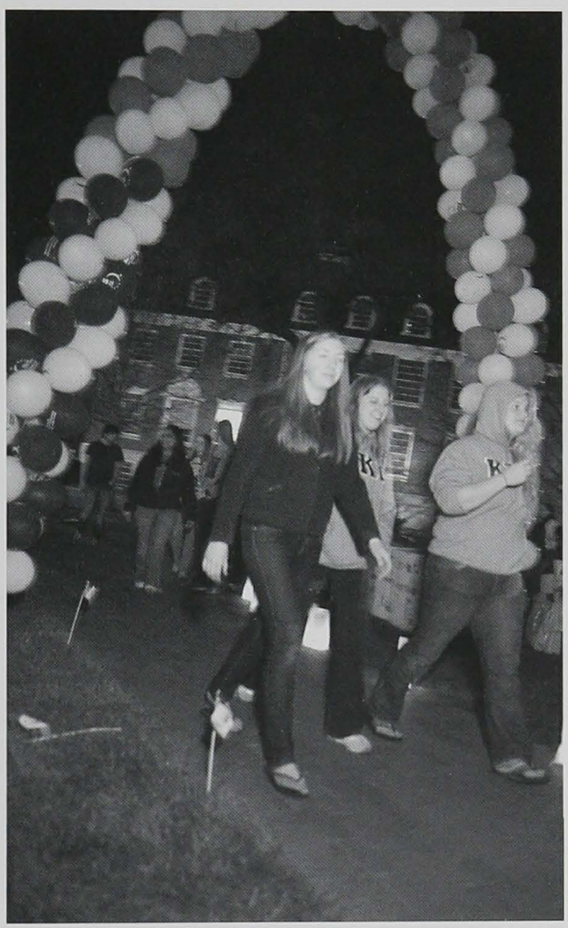


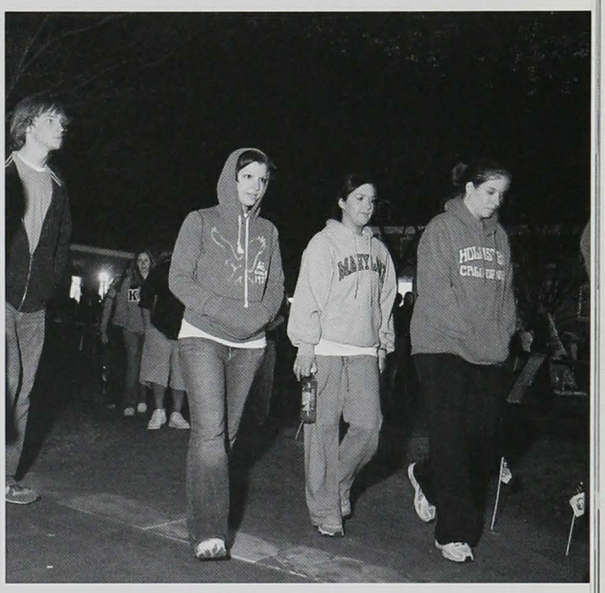
Students stay up all night walking to raise awareness for cancer. A variety of activities and games (and some strong coffee) help keep students awake.

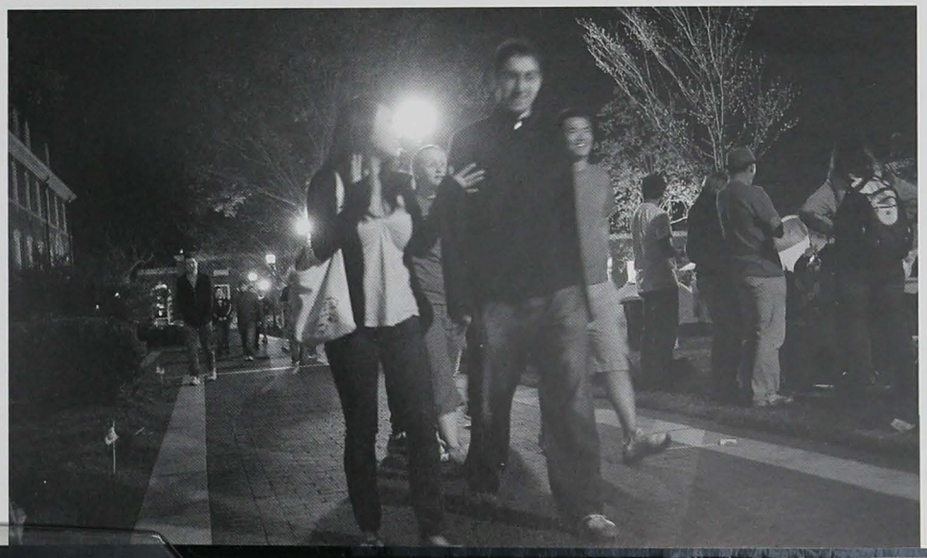
Relay for Life is a national event that aims to raise awareness about the constant battle against cancer by fundraising and dedicating a night of walking in honor of those who have been impacted by cancer. Many student organizations collaborate to make the Relay for Life at Hopkins successful.



Students acting to make the world a better place and more aware.

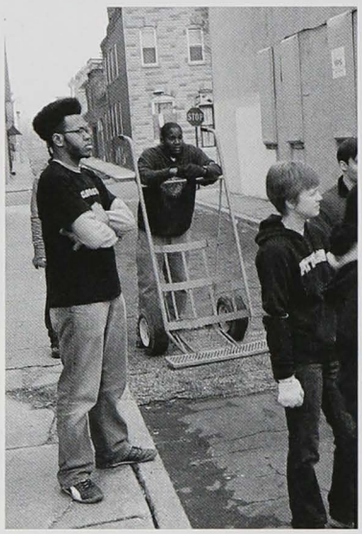






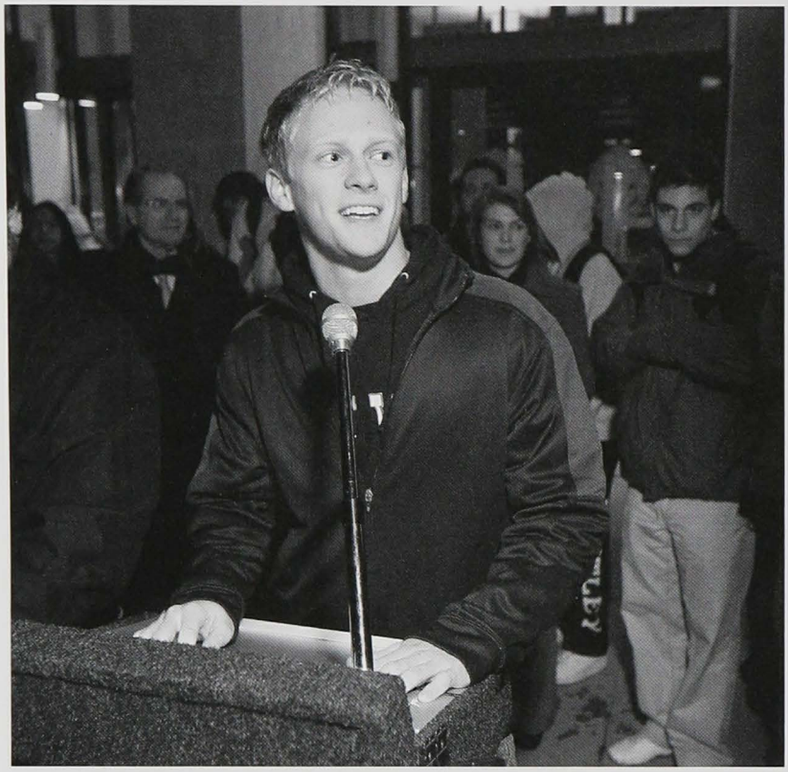
Service/Volunteering

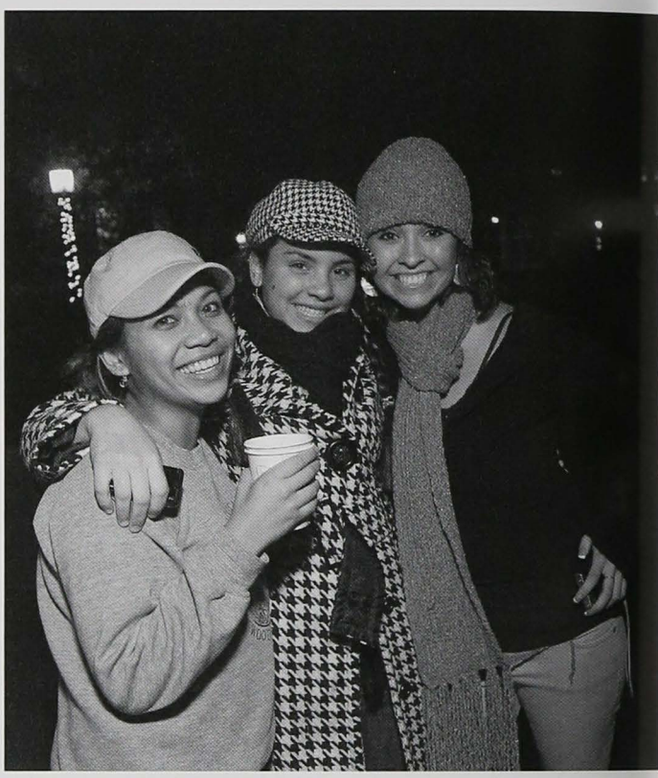
Students get their first exposure of volunteering at Freshman Orientation at Involved! Most students go on to provide service to the Baltimore community through a variety of ways.

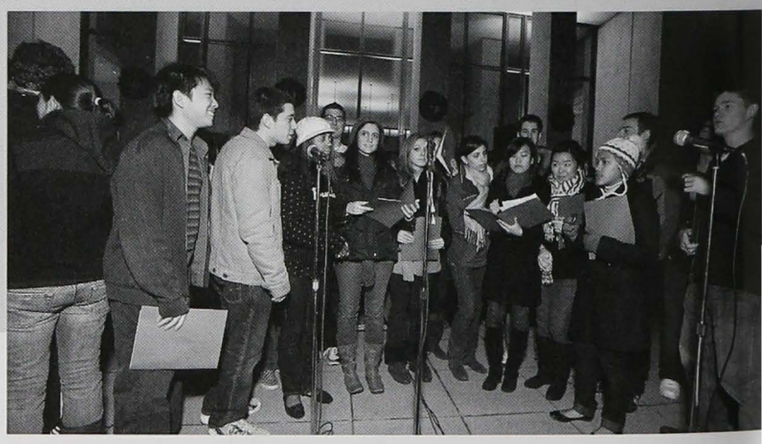


These students are working to beautify a Baltimore neighborhood.

Lighting of the Quad

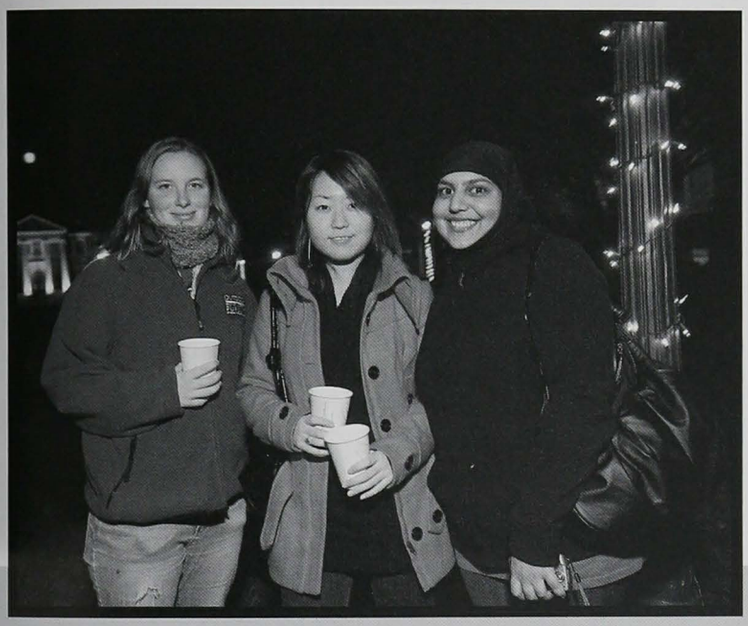


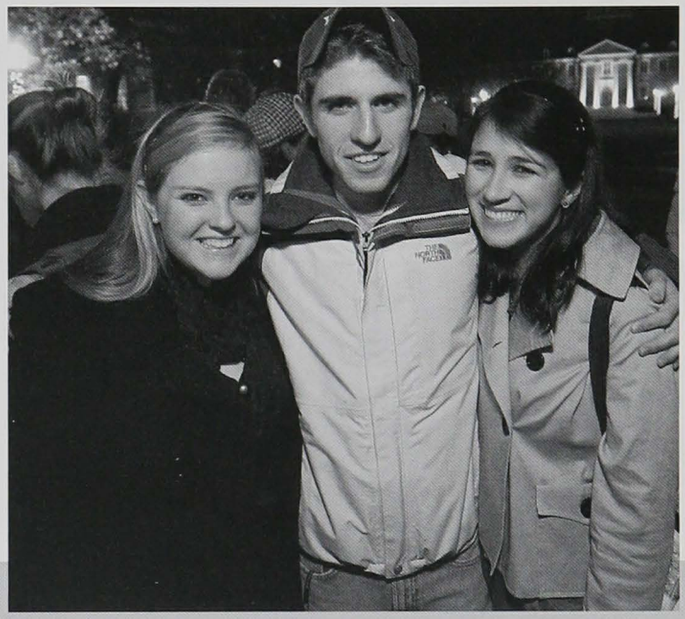


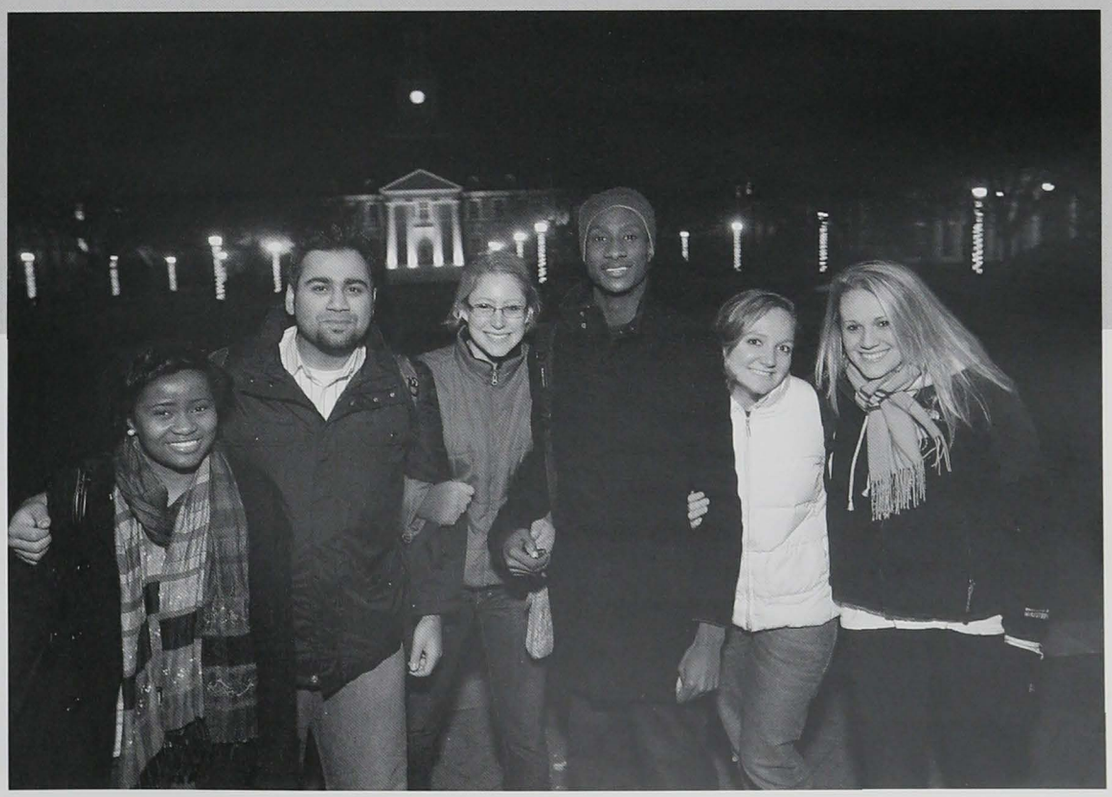


The Lighting of the Quad is a fairly new tradition that is already beloved. It is a great way to get the holiday season started!

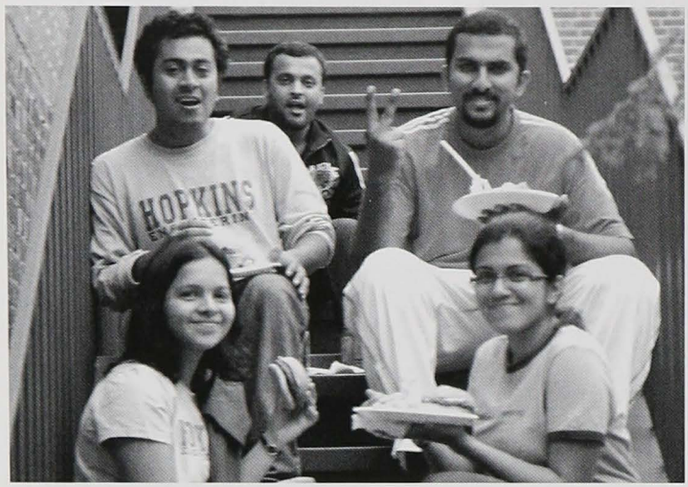
Lights are by no means the only attractions at the Lighting of the Quad, there are performances by talented acapella groups and plenty of hot chocolate to keep the audience warm!

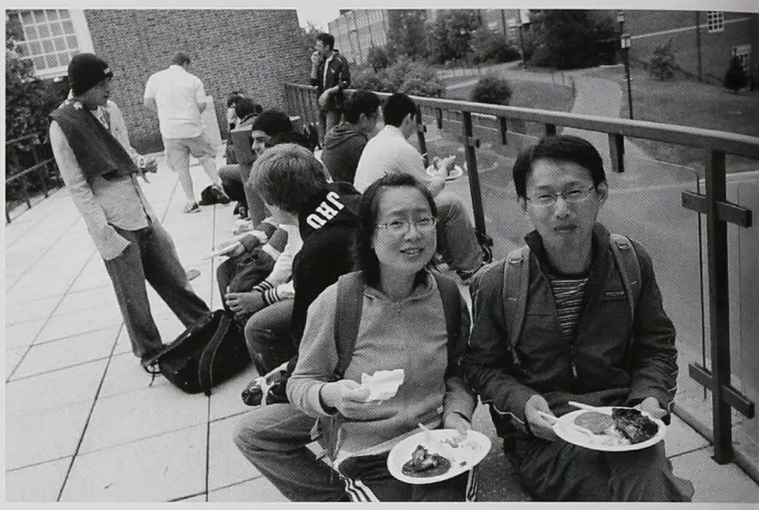


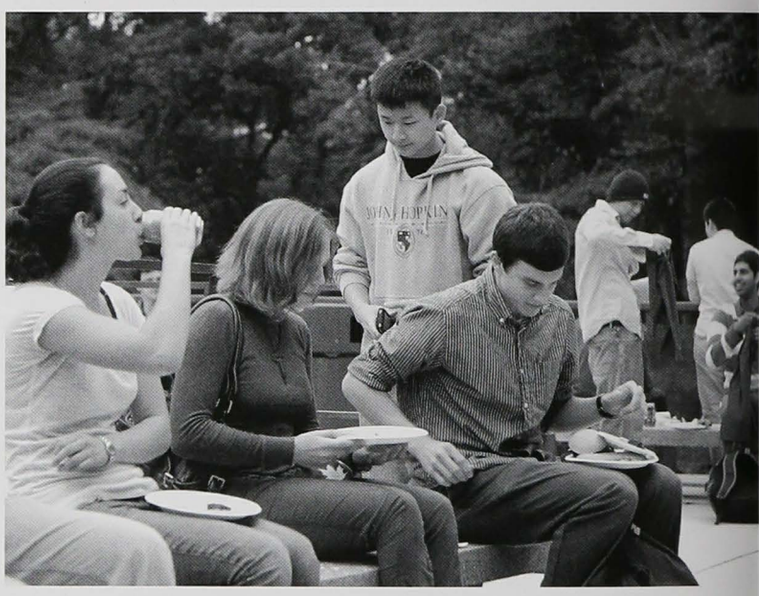




Fall Fest

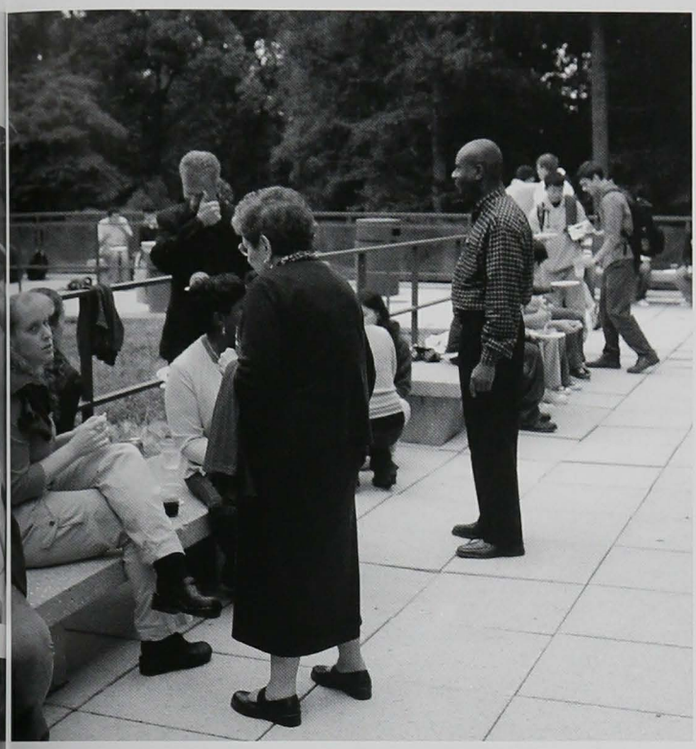


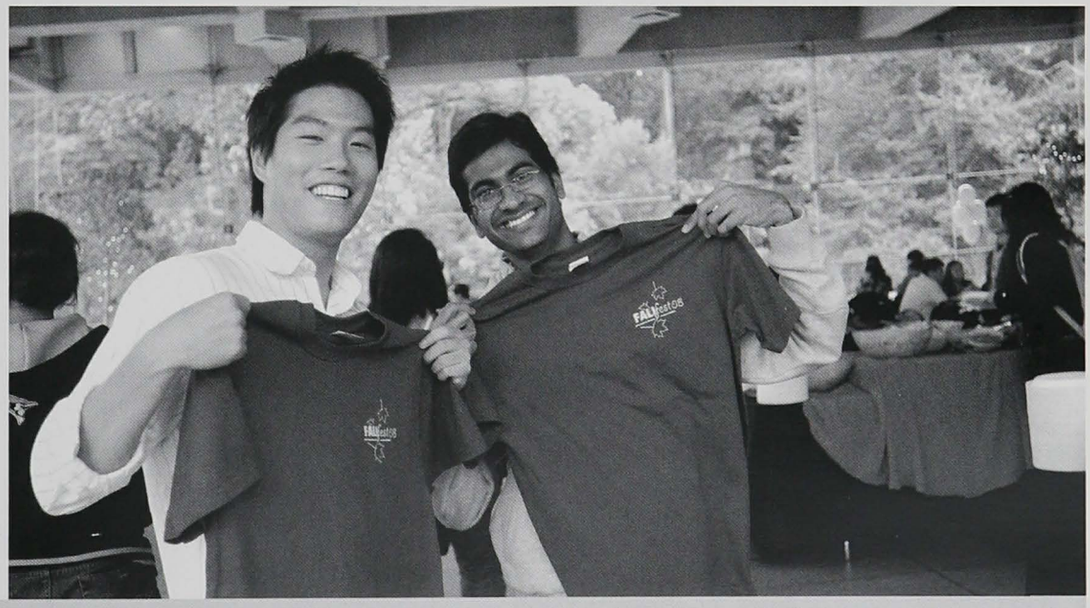




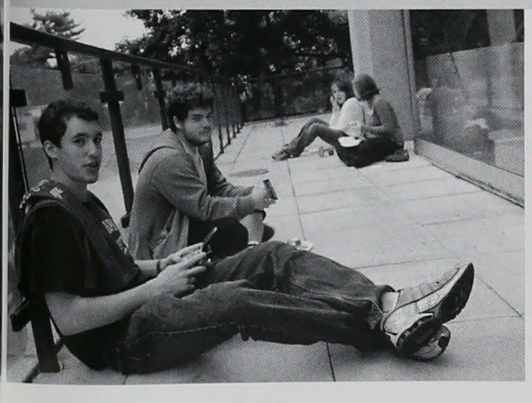
Fall Fest is wonderful opportunity for recent graduates and alumni of Hopkins to come back and visit the campus and catch up with old friends, not to mention the great opportunity to make new ones!

Fall Fest is a weekend packed with fun-filled activities, delicious food and drink. It's perfect for socializing!

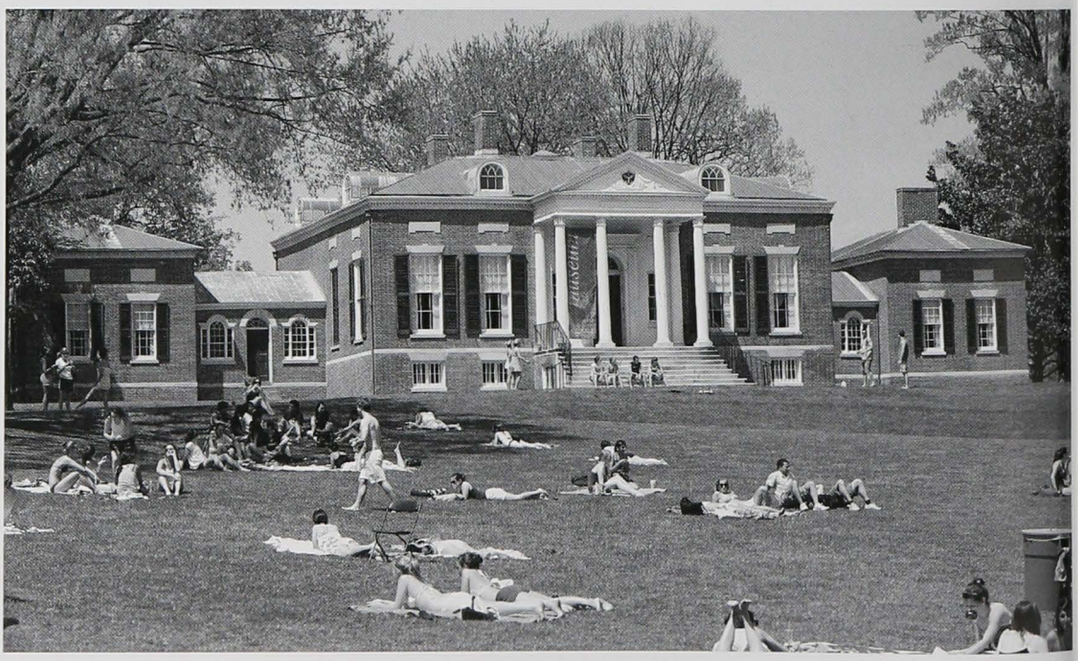




Fall Fest t-shirts are a great way to show Hopkins spirit!

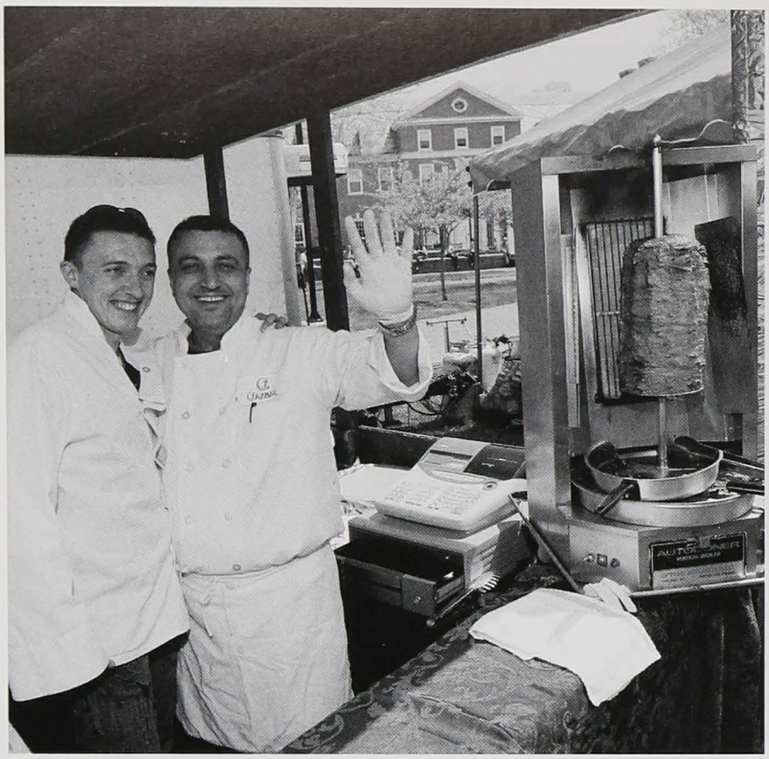


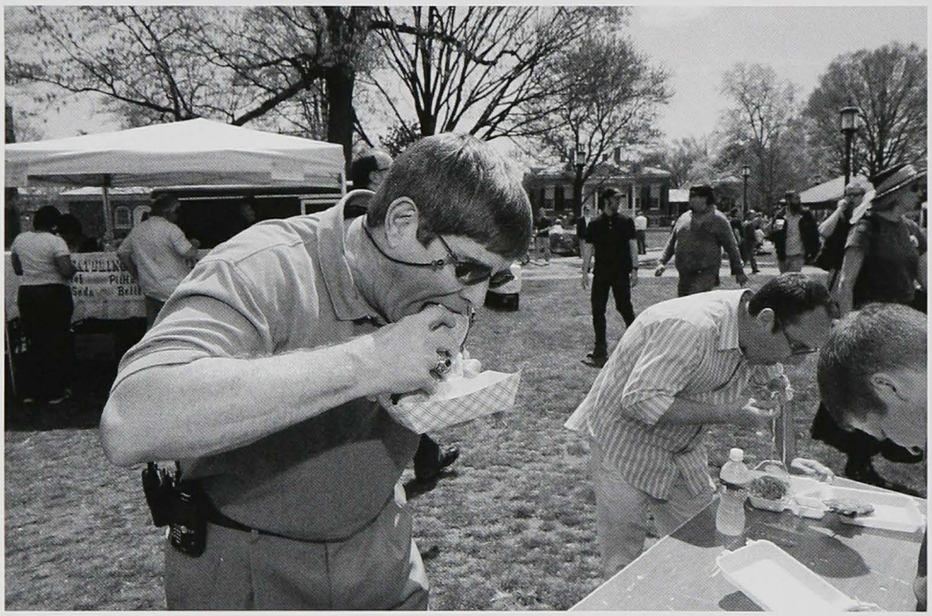
Spring Fair



Students enjoy Spring Fair as the kickoff to the nice weather and all the activities available now that winter is over.

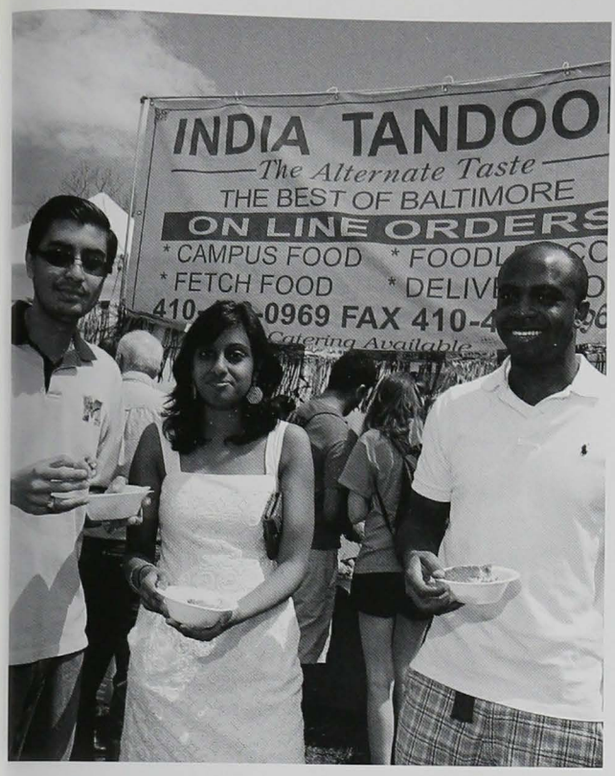
Spring Fair is an annual event hosted by Johns Hopkins that is enjoyed not only by students, but members of the community as well. A variety of foods, games and carnival type rides (for small children) attract everyone to the Hopkins campus during the beautiful spring weekend.

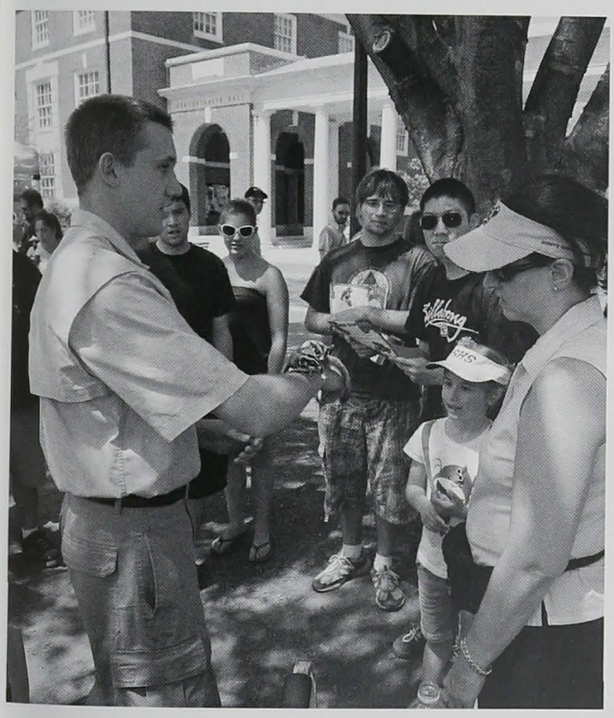


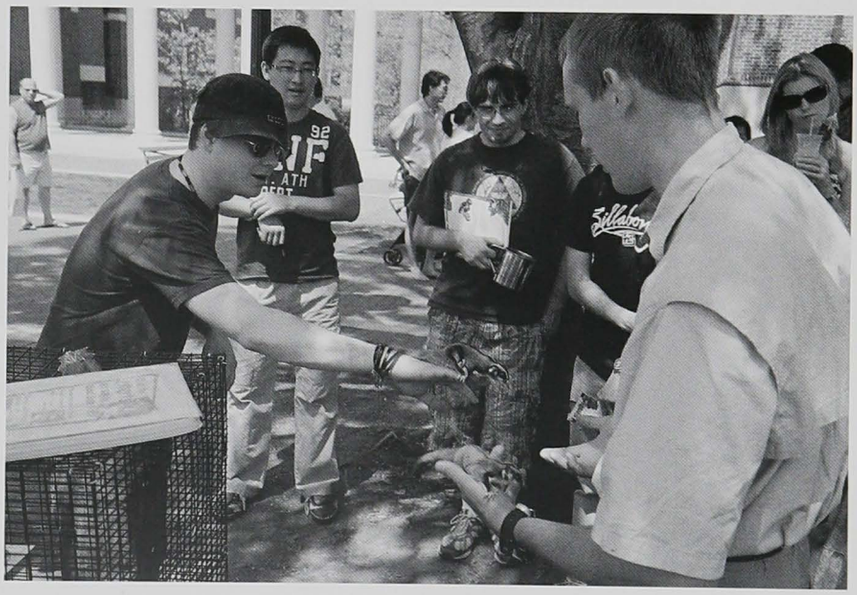


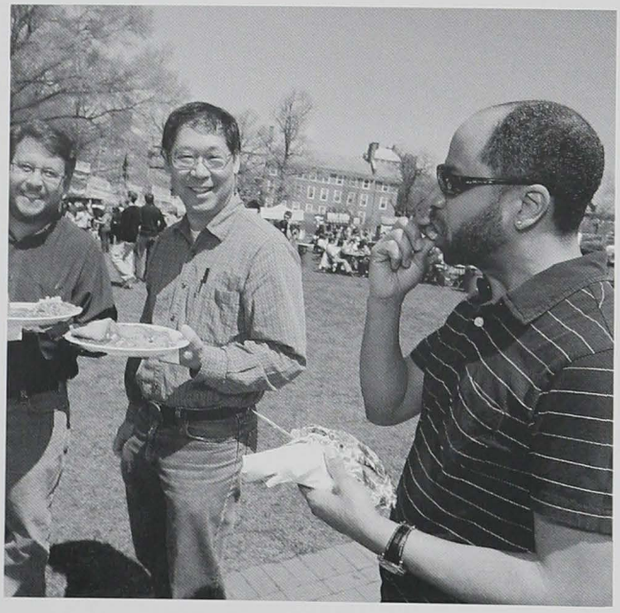
Spring fair attracts not only families and students, but food enthusiasts as there are a variety of culinary options available. From smoothies to funnel cakes and even Irish food and turkey legs..

More Spring Fair Activities









Attendees at the Spring Fair this year got the rare treat of seeing a sugar glider. So adorable!

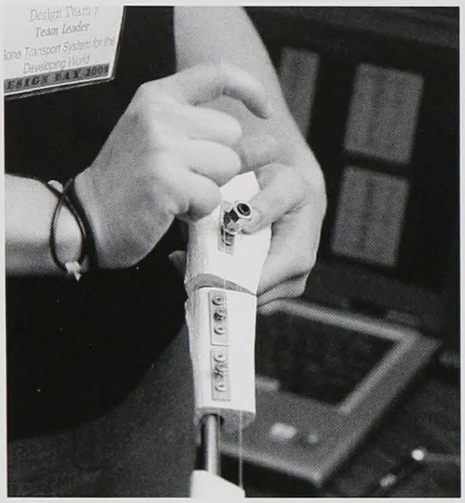
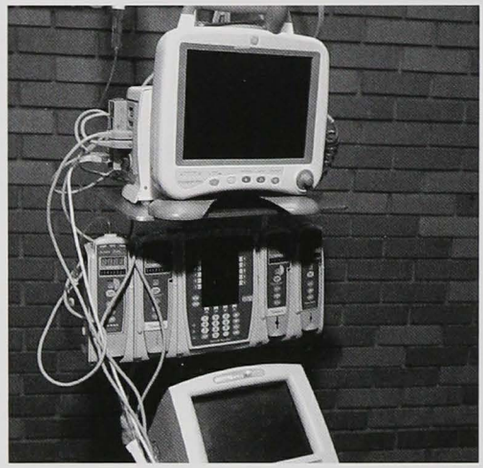
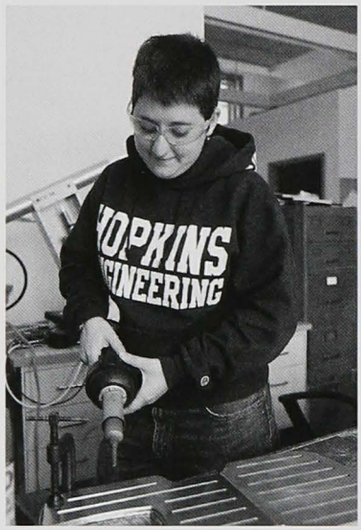
Academics

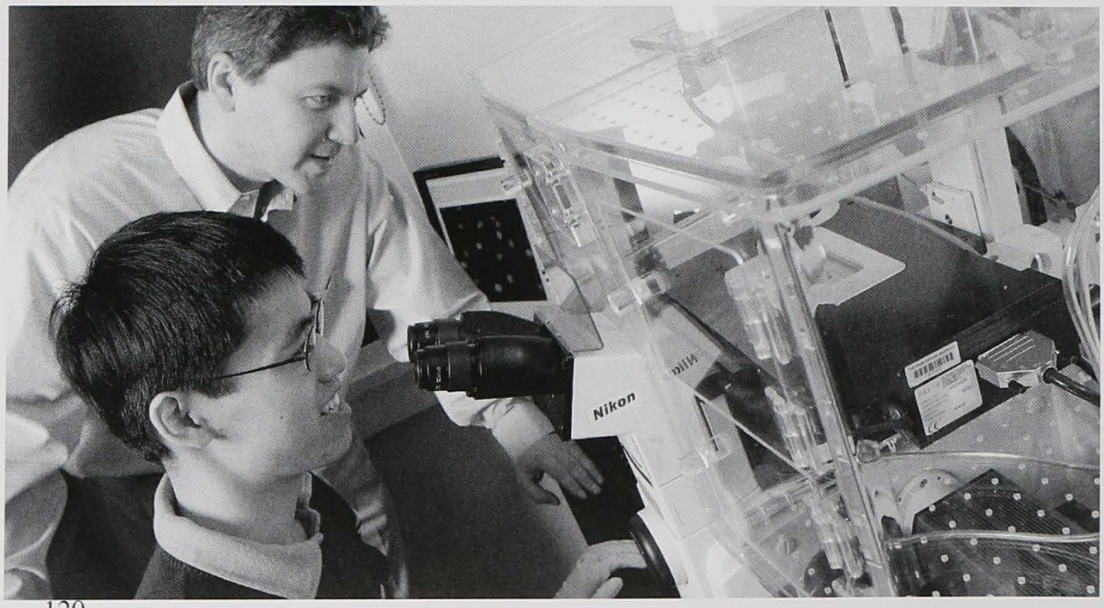
Creating inventions to better tomorrow's world....



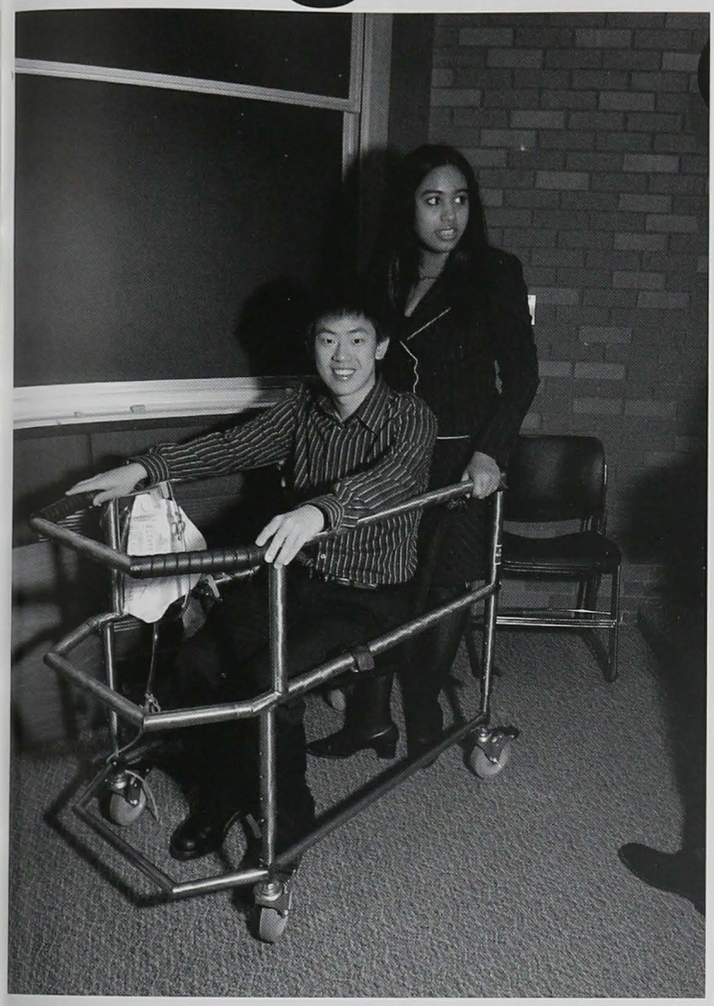


The theoretical work of many engineering students is being put to practical use. Creating and implementing their designs is a unique and challenging opportunity for these engineering students!

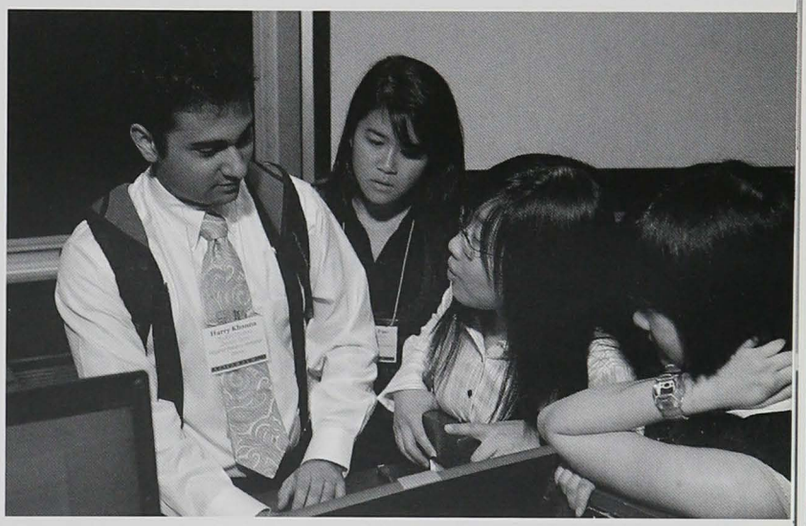




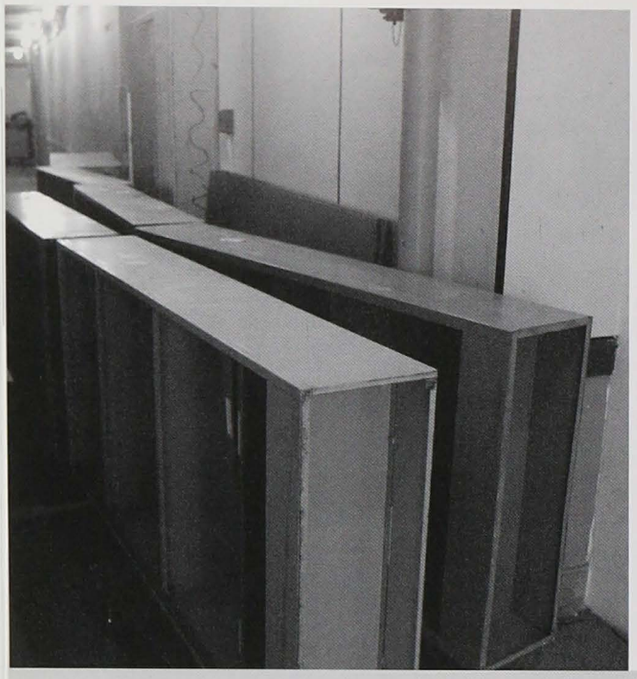
Engineering



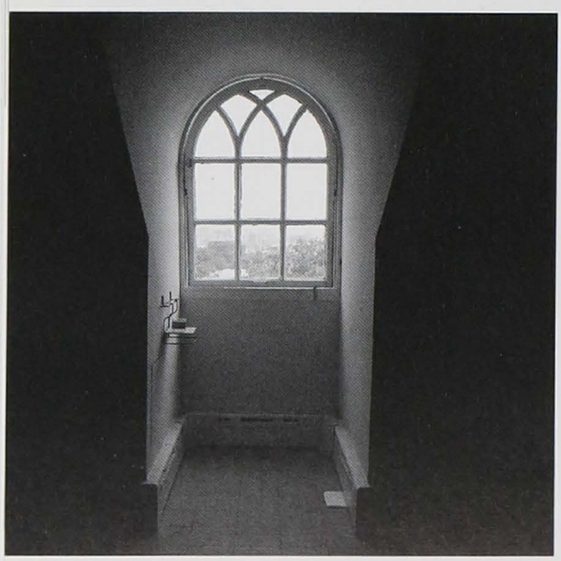
Some of the undergraduate biomedical engineering students get the opportunity to share their hard work with other students and faculty at a design and research conference.



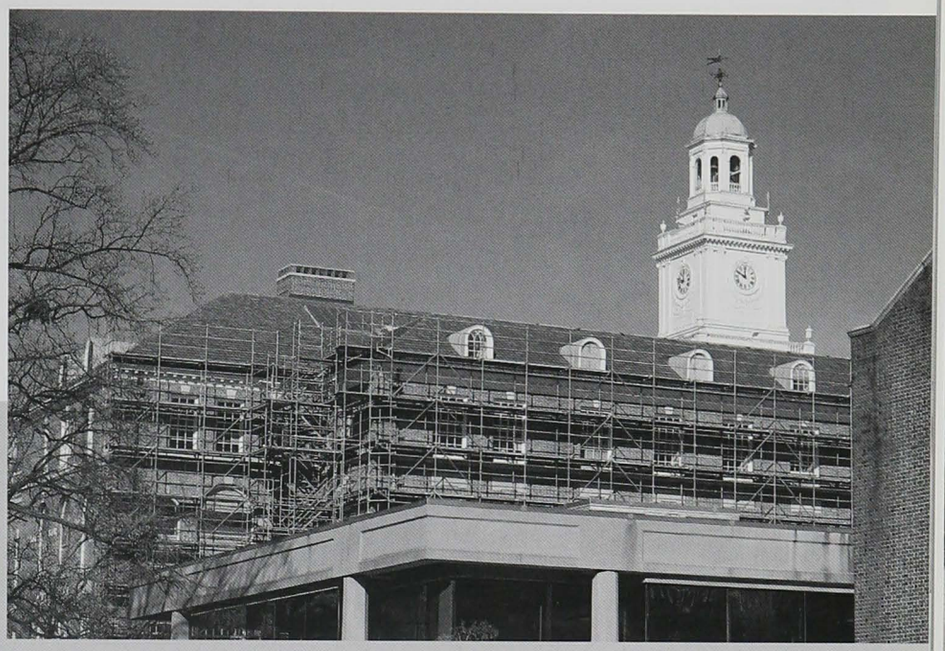
Learning by designing and building, novel new innovations are made regularly by engineering undergraduates at Hopkins.

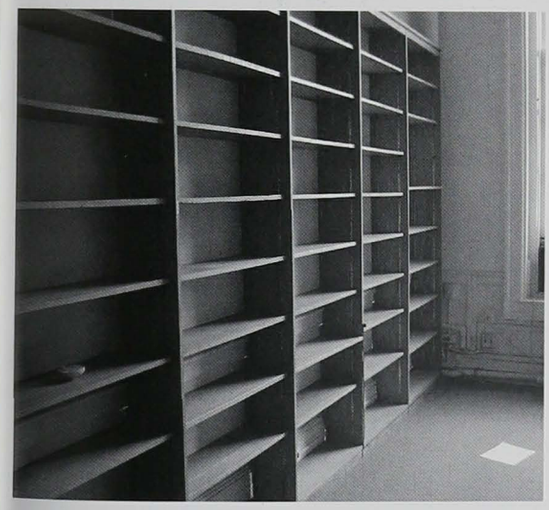


The renovation of the Gilman building is well under way and has students excited for all the new facilities this construction will offer for them. These include an inner courtyard and a curved atrium skylight.

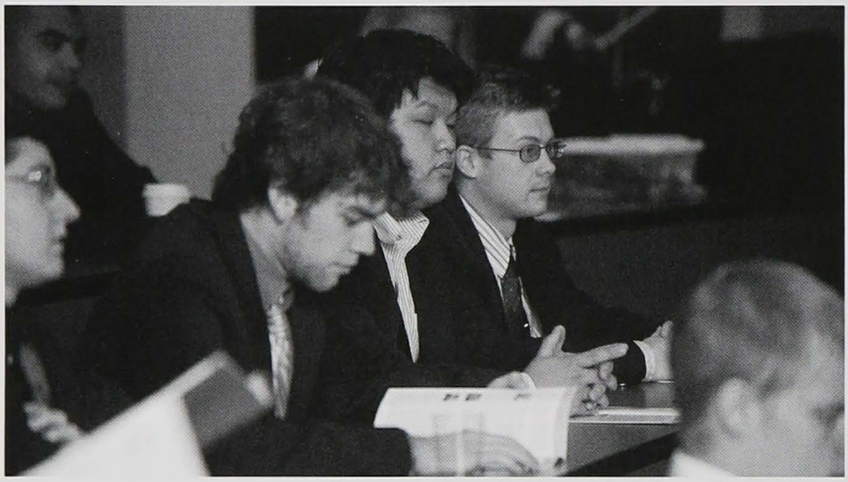


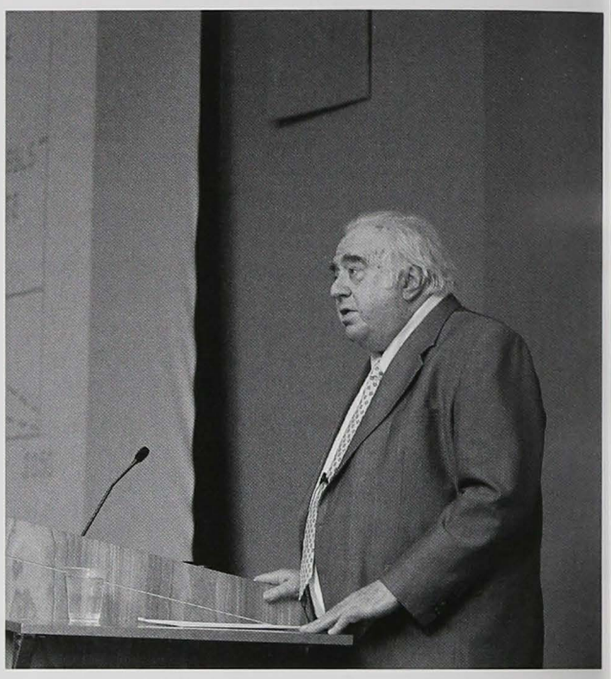
Gilman Renovation

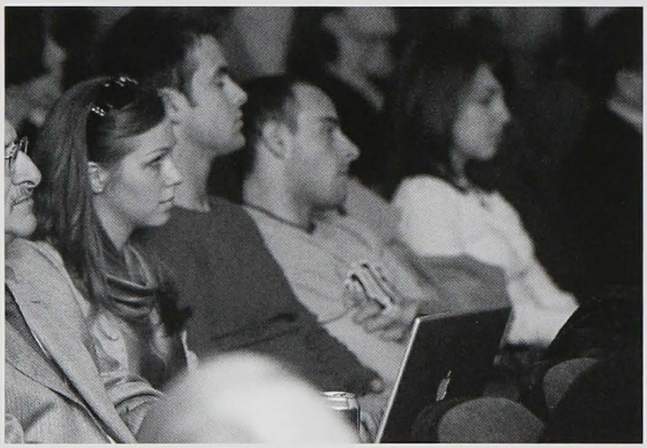




Social Sciences







Students listen to, take notes on and follow along at a lecture given by a member of Hopkins faculty.

The incredible rare books collection at the Milton S. Eisenhower library is a great resource for many classes and students in furthering their studies, particularly of literature and history.

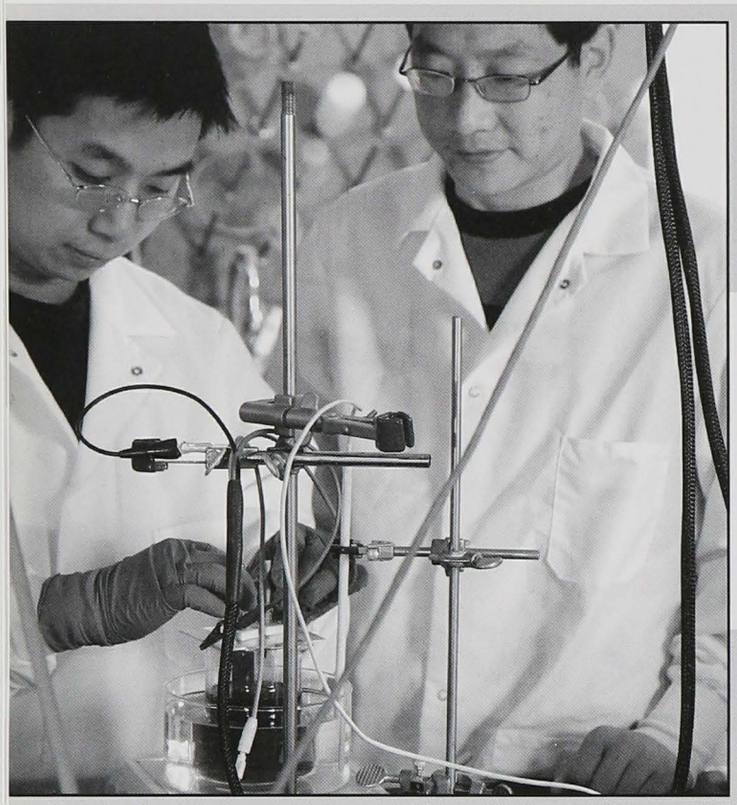
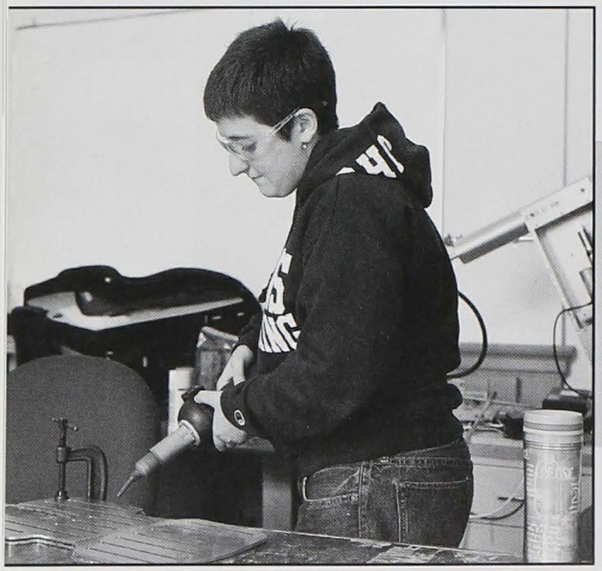
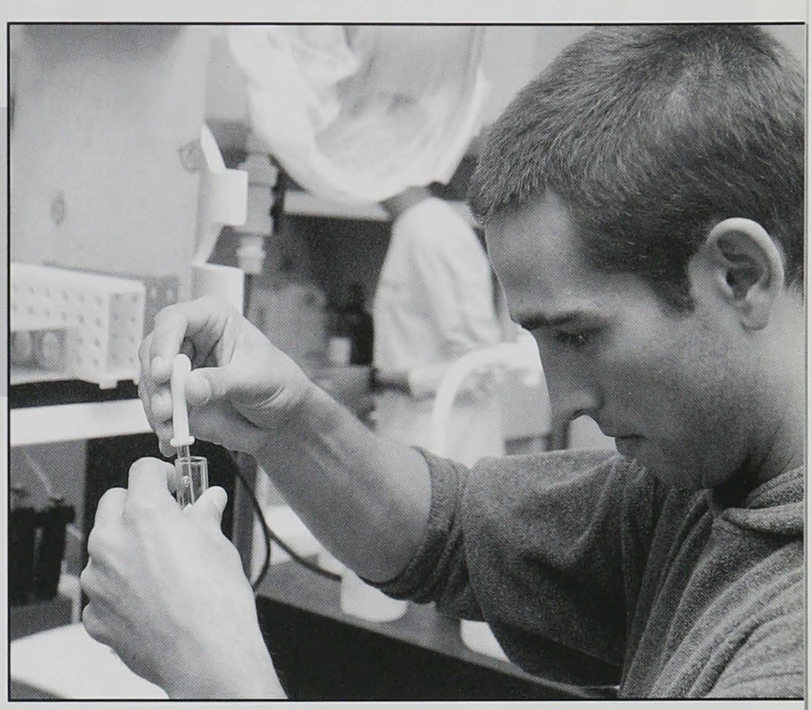
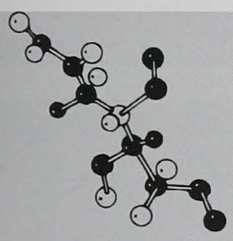
Natural Sciences

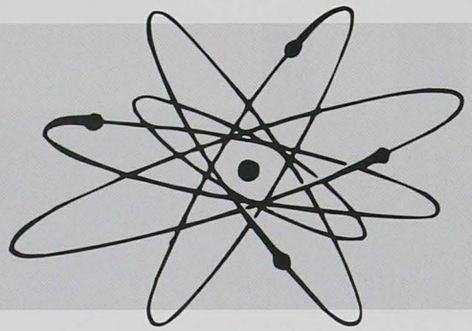


Students get a lot of hands on experience in a variety of scientific applications not only in the class room but through research with faculty at Hopkins.









The ever changing scientific world provides students with a stage to work out problems with real life applications.
