Dear C. Gilman Esq

Sir,

The Committee on the Restoration of Independence Hall have resolved to invite the presence of the American Historians, Biographers & Literati at that place on the second day of July 1876. They desire ^{that} a Biographical sketch of every individual, whose memory is associated with this Building during the early days of the Republic, may be prepared and deposited at that time among the archives of the National Museum.

You are respectfully requested to be present at Independence Hall, on the day above mentioned, and to bring with you a sketch of the life of

or in case of a preference for another subject, to communicate the fact. It is desired that these sketches should not exceed two pages of fool cap.

An early answer is requested, the invitations being strictly limited. With great respects,

Frank M. Cutting

EDWARD G. MASON,
PRESIDENT.CHARLES EVANS,
SECRETARY AND LIBRARIAN

February 9, 1899.

My dear President Gilman:

My name is before the President for the position of Librarian of the Library of Congress in so favorable a manner that I believe a word from you in commendation of my appointment would turn any doubt on his part into belief.

Briefly stated my position is this: The President has now received a Petition for my appointment from Indianapolis, and personal letters from prominent citizens in seven, or eight, states. Among whom I would mention: Mr. A. C. Harris, our new Minister to Austria; President Jordan, of Stanford University; (my warm personal friend President Smart, of Purdue University, is in so precarious a condition that his Secretary has written me that she is forbidden by his Physician to bring any matter whatever to his attention);

Judge Woods, of the U. S. Circuit Court;
Mr. Levi J. Leiter; and Mr. Cyrus H.
McComick - two of the Members of this Society; Francis Blake, of Boston; Andrew Langdon, President of the Buffalo Historical Society; John Clark Kidpath; Edward Stabler Jr., and others whose names are barely given.
Senators Fairbanks, and Beveridge of Indiana, and Representative Alexander, of New York, are personal friends. Senator Culbom is an honorary member of this Society; and Secretary Seymour J. Sage is a member of its Executive Committee.

Under date of Feb. 6. Secretary Sage writes me: "It will be a pleasure to me to report to the President the manner supporting evidence of your qualifications and fitness for that position which have been submitted."

Senator Culbom, after good-naturedly scolding me for not writing to him until after he had endorsed a local candidate, says that he was so well assured of my fitness that he would personally see the President on my behalf.

EDWARD G. MASON,
PRESIDENT.

CHARLES EVANS,
SECRETARY AND LIBRARIAN.

If the President will only consider it wise to make this appointment from among the large body of Librarians, a great point will have been gained for the profession.

In my thirty years of practical Library work in Boston, Baltimore, Indianapolis, Omaha, and Chicago I feel that I have been fitted for the position; and have the health, executive ability, and special knowledge which it demands.

As a member, and one of the Founders of the American Library Association, and an Honorary Member of the Library Association of the United Kingdom, I have an unquestioned standing among my professional associates.

May I ask, my dear Mr. Gilman, that you will consider my request favorably, and write direct to the President commending the appointment as warmly as you can?

Believe me to be, with great respect,

Very faithfully yours,
Charles Evans

Prof. D. C. Gilman,

Dear Sir:

A few weeks ago I addressed a letter to ~~the~~ H. M. Secretary of State for India requesting that copies of the works published under his patronage might be presented to the Hopkins University in Baltimore, and I have been favoured with the following reply from Lord Hamilton:

India Office S. W.

24th March 1876.

Sir,

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 16th ultimo, requesting that copies of Oriental texts and other works published under the patronage of the Secretary of State for India in Council may be presented to the Hopkins University recently established at Baltimore in the United States of America.

In reply I am directed to acquaint you that the Secretary of State in Council has sanctioned the presentation to the Hopkins University of a copy of each of the works specified in the accompanying list and the Librarian at this Office has been instructed to forward the works in question to any Agent whom you may designate for transmission to the University.

I am

Sir,
your obedient Servant

George Hamilton "

E. P. Evans Esq^r

I have acknowledged this letter and thanked the Secretary of State for this valuable gift. In a few days I shall confer with my friend Dr. Root the Librarian and have the books sent to your address in Baltimore. The works presented are the following:

- Anderson's Tamil Grammar.
- Bühler's Catalogue of Sanskrit Mss. from Eujarat. 4 vols.
- Campbell's Telugu Dictionary.
- Cowell's Prākṛitaprakāśā.
- Goldstücker's Mānasa-kalpasūtra.
- Hall's Bibliographical Index.
- Jäschke's Tibetan Grammar and Dictionary.
- Brahmi's Persian Grammar.
- Molesworth's Marathi Dictionary.
- Müller's Rig-veda. 6 vols.
- " Translation of the Rig-veda, vol. I.
- Mackerrill's Carnataka Grammar.
- Cuseley's Anwar-i Soheili.
- Pratāpa C. Ghoshā's Durgā-pūjā.
- Strange's Hindu Law.
- Springer's Catalogue of Budh Library.
- Taylor's Madras Catalogue. 3 vols.
- William's Sakuntalā.
- " English-Sanskrit Dictionary.
- Wilson's Translation of Rig-veda. 4 vols.
- " Glossary of Auerian Terms.
- Weber's White Yajur-veda. 3 vols.

This list comprises 37 volumes, all of them valuable and some of them quite expensive. I am the more gratified at my success in securing this donation from the fact that similar requests have been, within the past year refused. Before presenting my request formally, I had a conversation with some of the most distinguished Orientalists connected with the India Office and convinced them that considerable attention ought to be given to Oriental languages in the curriculum of Hopkins's University and that such a presentation would encourage their studies and contribute greatly to the success of this department. Indeed I regard it as a serious defect in the last American University that they do not furnish better facilities for the prosecution of these studies. Every philologist recognizes the value of Sanskrit, and yet there is the only college in the United States where it can be studied to any advantage. And if a young man desires to acquire a knowledge of Zend or Persian, where is the college that can help him? And yet it is as essential for a traveller in the East to know Persian, as it used to be for a European tourist to know French. In order to have these languages taught it is not necessary at first to establish distinct professorships of them; but let e.g. the professors of French, Italian & Spanish be also competent to teach Sanskrit, Zend & Persian. Very few (or no) and the professors of German be able to teach Sanskrit, Zend & Persian. Some I believe there would be a demand for separate professorships of Semitic and Aryan languages.

But I hear that you may deem these observations rather imprudent on my part. I had no thought of making them when I began this letter, but have seen led into them by enthusiasm for favorite studies, which I trust you will pardon. I may add that a friend, who is at the head of a college in Andria (Salerno), promises to send the publication of that institution to Hopkins's University on his return to India.

With best wishes for your success I remain yours very truly

My Dear Sir;

In accordance with your instructions I had the books from the East India Office forwarded through Mr. Allen and hope they have been received in good condition. Accept my thanks also for the copies of your Inaugural Address which I have read with great interest. When your plan of organization is realized, Baltimore will be the seat of a University in the true sense of the word.

The University of Munich has recently suffered an almost irreparable loss in the death of Professor Haug, the distinguished Orientalist. I gave a brief account of his decease in a letter to my friend Dr. Post of the East India Office, who had it printed, as a matter of public interest, in the London Athenaeum of June 10th. Perhaps you may have noticed it there. It will be difficult to fill his chair; he had no equal in Europe in some branches of Oriental studies. But what I wish to call your attention to is his valuable library of books and mss. which will now be sold. The mss. were collected by him in India, some of them are unica at least so far as Europe is concerned and all of them have been selected for their intrinsic value. The mss. are mostly Sanskrit, but include also a great number of Zand and Pahlavi works invaluable for the history of Oriental religions. It is a very superior collection and has been estimated at $8000. The library of books is also quite large and well selected, and contains many texts published in India and easily obtainable in Europe. If the books and mss. were purchased together, they could be had for about $8000. A Catalogue is being prepared.

Would it not be possible for some gentleman or gentleman in Baltimore to purchase this library for the Johns Hopkins University? It is not often that such a collection of works is offered for sale. The possession of the mss. would give an impulse to Oriental studies which would be felt throughout the United States.

Young men wishing to pursue these studies would be attracted to Baltimore when they could have an opportunity of consulting the mss. and could learn to read and edit mss. But I need not dwell on these advantages which you thoroughly appreciate. The main point is whether any one will come forward and buy the library.

Any service which I can perform in reporting more fully on this library or in negotiating the purchase do I will gladly undertake.

Respectfully,
President D. C. Gilman

Very yours,

My dear President Gilman,

We are having a series of informal talks to the men of the University by men who will attract the fellows, upon religious subjects of the broadest interest.

Professor Learned suggests that you are always glad to help in this way so we very much want you to come up some Wednesday evening in March or early in April.

We meet from 7 to 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening and would like a very informal talk of about a half hour in length.

Your presence will be a very great help and inspiration to all of us.

Please name some Wednesday which will be convenient for you.

President D. C. Gilman

Very sincerely
